

CALAMITY JANE

A Musical Western

adapted by

RONALD HANMER and PHIL PARK

from the stage play by

CHARLES K. FREEMAN

after

The WARNER BROS. Film

Written by

JAMES O'HANLON

Lyrics by

PAUL FRANCIS WEBSTER

Music by

SAMMY FAIN

Licensed to

JOSEF WEINBERGER LIMITED

12-14 Mortimer Street, London W1N 7RD

Tel: 0171-580 2827 Fax: 0171-436 9616

By arrangement with Tarns-Witmark Music Library, New York City.

© 1962 BY TAMS-WITMARK MUSIC LIBRARY, NEW YORK.

CALAMITY JANE

CHARACTERS

CALAMITY JANE Low G (Opt. F) to D Flat (Opt. E Flat)
The hard-bitten, gun-totin' heroine, who tries to behave like a man but can't help loving like a woman. In order to hold her own in a man's world, she dresses, speaks, rides and shoots like a man; groomed and dressed in proper feminine fashion, she is revealed as a beautiful girl - and the transformation is quite startling.

WILD BILL HICKOCK B Flat to E Natural
Aged about 35, and a handsome figure of a man, he is an ex-peace-officer turned professional gambler. Good-natured. With a sense of humour. In love with Calamity Jane, but doesn't know it.

LIEUT. DANNY GILMARTIN B Flat to E Flat
A young officer attached to the nearby fort. He is the man Calamity Jane dreams about, but he falls in love with somebody quite different.

KATIE BROWN Low F Sharp to C Sharp
A stage-struck city-girl who poses as a famous actress, but has good looks and talents of her own.

HENRY MILLER Non-singing
Proprietor of "The Golden Garter", Deadwood City's saloon-hotel-theatre. Aged about 50, he is nervous and erratic--giving the impression that he is constantly only one jump ahead of a nervous breakdown

SUSAN Non-singing
Miller's young, friendly and pretty niece.

FRANCIS FRYER B Flat to D
A song-and-dance man more at home in the vaudeville theatres of the Eastern States than in the Wild West.

ADELAIDE ADAMS Low F Sharp to B (Opt. D)
A highly-paid vaudeville star and celebrated "beauty" of the period; off-stage, a selfish and conceited woman

RATTLESNAKE Non-singing
A bewhiskered old fossil who drives the stage-coach.

"DOC" PIERCE Non-singing
Deadwood City's doctor-undertaker, with doubtful qualifications but considerable experience. A poker-playing pal of Hickock's

JOE Non-singing
Bartender of "The Golden Garter"

HANK and PETE Two Scouts.

COLONEL of Fort Scully.

COWPUNCHERS, BULLWHACKERS, PROSPECTORS, TRAPPERS, INDIANS'
WOMEN OF THE TOWN, CHORUS-GIRLS, OFFICERS, SOLDIERS and their WIVES, STAGE COACH PASSENGERS, Etc

CALAMITY JANE

SYNOPSIS OF SCENERY

ACT ONE

SCENE 1. "THE GOLDEN GARTER",
Deadwood City, Dakota Territory.

SCENE 2. THE STAR DRESSING-ROOM,
Bijou Theatre, Chicago.

SCENE 3. "THE GOLDEN GARTER" again.

ACT TWO

SCENE 1. CALAMITY JANE'S CABIN.

SCENE 2. A TRAIL,
through a Pass in the Black Hills.

SCENE 3. FORT SCULLY.

SCENE 4. THE TRAIL again.

SCENE 5. "THE GOLDEN GARTER".

Time: 1876.

CALAMITY JANE

MUSICAL NUMBERS

ACT ONE

- No. OVERTURE.
- I. "THE DEADWOOD STAGE" (Calamity and Ensemble).
2. "CARELESS WITH THE TRUTH" (Calamity, Bill and Men).
3. "ADELAIDE" (Bill and Men).
4. "EV'RYONE COMPLAINS ABOUT THE WEATHER" (Fryer).
5. "MEN!" (Calamity).
6. Can-Can Dancers.
7. "HIVE FULL OF HONEY" (Fryer).
8. "I CAN DO WITHOUT YOU" (Calamity and Bill).
9. OPENING SCENE 2- Orchestra.
10. "IT'S HARRY I'M PLANNING TO MARRY" (Adelaide and Stage-Door-Johnnies).
- 10a. REPRISÉ OF "IT'S HARRY I'M PLANNING TO MARRY" (Katie)
11. OPENING SCENE 3-REPRISÉ OF "ADELAIDE" (Men).
12. "WINDY CITY" (Calamity and Chorus).
13. "KEEP IT UNDER YOUR HAT" (Katie).
14. REPRISÉ OF "KEEP IT UNDER YOUR HAT" (Katie and Chorus).
15. FINALE ACT ONE: REPRISÉ OF "CARELESS WITH THE TRUTH " (Ensemble and Chorus).
16. ENTR'ACTE.

ACT TWO

17. OPENING ACT Two: "A WOMAN'S TOUCH" (Calamity and Katie).
18. "HIGHER THAN A HAWK" (Bill).
19. "THE BLACK HILLS OF DAKOTA" (Chorus).
- 19a. "OPENING SCENE 3: REPRISÉ OF "BLACK HILLS OF DAKOTA" (Calamity, Katie, Bill, Danny and Chorus).
20. "LOVE You DEARLY" (Katie and Danny).
21. FINALETIO (Calamity and Bill).
22. OPENING SCENE 4.
23. "MY SECRET LOVE" (Calamity).
24. REPRISÉ OF "WINDY CITY" (Chorus).
25. FINALE

CALAMITY JANE

OVERTURE, FOLLOWED BY MUSIC NO. 1. AT APPROPRIATE CUE, (11TH BAR OF MUSIC)
CURTAIN RISES ON:

ACT ONE SCENE 1

“THE GOLDEN GARTER”

“The Golden Garter is a combined depot, hotel, bar, gambling-hall and theatre; it is operated by HENRY MILLER, and when the story opens (1876) it is the main rendezvous of the inhabitants of Deadwood City, Dakota Territory.

JOE, an aproned bartender, stands on a chair hanging up a banner which depicts a fetching dancing-girl of the period and announces: “OPENING TONIGHT!..... STRAIGHT FROM NEW YORK! LOVELY SINGING AND DANCING STAR... MISS FRANCES FRYER!... BE HERE!... COME EARLY!” ...

A weather-beaten PROSPECTOR, with sieves, pans and other trade-accessories hanging from his person, is admiring the painting – and occasionally guzzling from his heavy glass of beer.

Seated at a table is WILD BILL HICKOCK, a suave, long-coated, personable two-gun gentleman in his middle thirties – the redoubtable and respected former peace-officer and professional gambler. Opposite him, sits DOC PIERCE, the local undertaker-doctor. He is riffling playing cards, with the skill of an expert before starting to deal for BILL and himself.

SUSAN, niece of the proprietor, a friendly and attractive girl, is busily dusting the metal reflectors of the footlights that fringe the raised stage on which MILLER presents his ‘shows’.

MILLER enters from the office, and pushes past a number of COWBOYS and GIRLS grouped about the bar. An erratic, fuss-pot of a man, he is, as usual, only one jump ahead of a nervous breakdown.

MUSIC

MILLER: Susan! No news of the stage yet? It's due right now.

SUSAN: It'll be here Uncle. No need to worry.

MILLER: Who's worried? Ever see me worried:

(A COWBOY enters, excitedly.)

COWBOY: It's the stage! The stage is here!

(OTHER MEN enter from outside, and various CHARACTERS emerge from side-rooms. CHARACTERS address various ad-libs to MILLER (“Y’see, Millie!”, “No need to worry!”, “Dead on time agin!”, “Good old Calam!”) but he brushes them aside and hurries out of doors. BILL and DOC pack up their card game, and move the table out of the way. As the CHARACTERS greet one another noisily and exchange ad-libs, the pulse of the music leads them into:

No. 1 "THE DEADWOOD STAGE"

CHORUS: Oh, the Deadwood Stage is a-rollin' on oer the plains
With the curtains flappin' and the driver slappin' the reins•
Beautiful sky-a wonderful day-
Whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away!
Oh, the Deadwood Stage is a-headin' on over the hills
Where the Injun arrows arc a-thicker than porkerpine quills
Dangerous land-no time to delay-
Whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away!

MEN: They're headin' straight for town. Loaded clown with a fancy cargo--

ALL: Cargo!

MEN: Care of Wells and Fargo, Illinois'.

ALL: Boy!
Oh, the Deadwood Stage is a-coming on over the crest,
Like a homin' pigeon that's a-hankerin' after its nest
Twenty-three miles they've covered today-
So whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away

(As MILLER re-enters, mopping his brow nervously, the music continues under dialogue)

MILLER: Well, it's here all right. Calamity's done it again.

DOC: What'ja expect?

MILLER: That she'd gotten herself into another Indian fight--and she did! That girl's never happy unless she's blasting away with a rifle in her hand.

BILL: Quit boilin' mer. Millie! Calam's never failed to bring in the stage yet - Injuns or no Injuns!

MILLER: Didn't want anything to happen to her this trip-she's got my actress aboard - I hope!

(HE goes to the bar to fortify himself with a drink as the CHORUS continues the number.)

MEN: The wheels go turnin' round, homeward hound-
Can't cha hear 'em hummin'?

ALL: Hummin'

MEN: Happy times a-comin' fer to stay

ALL: Hey!
They'll be home tonight by the light of the silvery moon,
And their hearts a-thumpin' like a mandolin plunkin' a tune!
When they get home, they'll be fixin' to stay-
Whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away!
Here they be! Here they be! 'How's about a welcome?
A peaceful sort of welcome for the gang-bang!
Oh, the Deadwood stage is finally home again!

(Lots of friendly SHOUTING as CALAMITY JANE enters. A bronzed and handsome young woman, she is attired in buckskin, and deceptively masculine in appearance. RATTLESNAKE, the bewhiskered old stage-coach driver enters behind CALAMITY and is followed by various passengers from the stage-coach.)

FIRST CHARACTER [MARTIN]: Well, excuse my stammer eff it ain't Calamity Jane!

SECOND CHARACTER [CHRIS HEELEY]: Hi-yah, Calam! Watcher bring us today:

FIRST CHARACTER: New Rubber boots:

SECOND CHARACTER: Ten dollar suits:

WOMAN [PRUE]: Things to crochet

CALAMITY Beads that sparkle like a prism;
 Snake-oil fer yer rheumatism;
 Calico and gingham fer the girls;
 Gum-drops made up in Chicagee,
 Gum-drops just a trifle soggy,
 And a genuine string of artificial pearls!

 Here's a hat from Cincinnati,
 Same as Adelina Patti
 Wore in every famous concert hall;
 Cast yer eye on Doctor Borah's
 Patent-pending hair-restorer,
 Guaranteed to grow hair on a billiard hall...

 Introducin' Henry Miller,
 Just as busy as fizzy sasparilla-
 Ain't a showman any smarter
 Operates the Golden Garter,
 Where the cream of Deadwood City comes to dine;
 And I'm glad to say he's a very good friend of mine

 Here is Charlie from Nantucket-
 I been told he panned for gold but never struck it!
 Frontier man and broncho buster-
 Injun scout for Gen'ral Custer,
 Back in Yellowstone in eighteen-sixty-nine -
 But I'm glad to say he's a Very good friend of mine!

 Hi, Joe! Say, where d'ja get them fancy clothes:
 I know: off some feller's laundry-line!
 Hi, Flo! Ain't you the prairie rose,
 'n smellin' like a watermelon vine.

(BILL moves towards her.)

 Here's a man the sheriff watches--
 On his gun there's more'n twenty-seven notches!
 On the draw there's no one faster, and you're flirtin'
 With disaster when Bill Hickock's reputation you malign
 But I'm glad to say he's a very good friend of a friend of mine!

CHORUS Ah...

CALAMITY: Oh, my throat is dry as a desert thistle in May;
In the Golden Garter gonna wet my whistle today,
Last to the bar's a three-legged crow-
Set 'em up, Joe-set 'em up, Joe-set 'em up Joe!

ALL: Set 'em up, Joe!

MILLER: Drinks on the house! Drinks on the house!

BILL: Name y'r poison!
(General movement to the bar.)

CALAMITY: Make mine sas'perilly!

ALL

CALAMITY: Set 'em up, Joe -
Set 'em up, Joe -
Set 'em up, Joe -
Set 'em up, Joe!

SCENE 1.1

(While JOE attends to the drinks, CALAMITY notices that SUSAN has unwrapped a parcel and revealed several yards of rather "loud" calico.)

CALAMITY: That what you wanted, Susan?

SUSAN (draping the cloth in front of her, and regarding it doubtfully): Thanks, Calam - looks like it'll make a mighty fine dress.

CALAMITY: I figgered it'd sorta brighten things up around here. Came darn near pluggin' that feller in the store when he called me "buddy ". Wanted to know what my wife's name was, 'n if I'd any kids!

SUSAN: There'll be plenty left to make another-you'd be welcome to it.

CALAMITY: Tarnation, Susan, now what would I be doin' with a dress?

SUSAN: You'd look pretty in it, Calam.

(BILL has brought a "sasperilly" from the bar, and hands it to CALAMITY.)

BILL: Reckon a dress is what most women wear.

CALAMITY: Goshamighty, Bill! Wouldn't know how to act with somethin' like that hangin' from me.

BILL: You should try it sometime. Reckon y'might be surprised.

SUSAN: Let me know if you change your mind...

(Exit SUSAN to office, with the cloth. MILLER has been mooing about looking at the newly-arrived PASSENGERS. He's worried that the lady he's expecting is not among them.)

MILLER: Calam! Where is she? Where's my actress?

CALAMITY: Your what?

MILLER: My actress! Hired her from a notice in the Chicago newspaper. Look - I'm advertising her! (Points to poster.) Got a show here tonight-best ever! Banners up all over town! I tell you I hired me an actress-she's supposed to be here-

CALAMITY: I don't remember any actress... (looks at poster) Does she look like that?

BILL: If she does -she'll be a sure-fire draw in Deadwood-

Doc (sudden thought): A figure like that could start some shootin'-and me clean out of formalin!

MILLER (accusingly, to CALAMITY): What have you done with my actress?

CALAMITY: I ain't done nothin' with no actress! Maybe she's out there, fainted. Why'n't yer take a look?

MILLER: Seems to me you ought to know if you had an actress aboard. (Starts to exit. Turns back.) Fainted... fainted... now why should she have done that?

CALAMITY: Maybe she looked at some of Deadwood's choice citizens and jest keeled over.

(With a wail, MILLER hurries out. JOE hands over to another bartender, and follows MILLER off.)

COWBOY: Any excitement this trip, Calam?

CALAMITY: Excitement! Got more arrows in the back of that coach than a porker-pine's got stickers! Seemed like the whole Sioux nation was after us! And without no warnin'! Down they came outa the hills, a-howlin' like souls in torment. Musta been a hundred of 'em.

(BILL winces at this exaggeration, but the rest of the MEN are smiling as they gather round CALAMITY. Behind her back, RATTLESNAKE holds up five fingers to the CROWD, pantomiming the true number of Indians who attacked the stage-coach. BILL chuckles. The CROWD laugh good-naturedly, but try to resume straight faces as CALAMITY, lowering her glass of "sasperilly", looks round at them, puzzled.)

CALAMITY: Weren't no laughing' matter

BILL (mock-serious): Sure wasn't, Calam. Hate t'have a war party that big on my tail.

CALAMITY (reassured): Well, now, Bill... 'cepting me, y're about the only other galoot in the world coulda brought that coach in. Sun got so hot, hadda sit with m'legs stretched out, holdin' the muzzle 'tween m'feet t'keep it from curlin' up on me! Killed at least thirty o' them painted varmits afore they got discouraged.

(CALAMITY pauses to sip her drink. Behind her, RATTLESNAKE holds up two fingers indicating the actual score. CROWD laughs. CALAMITY reacts, with confusion. She turns suddenly to RATTLESNAKE (whose eyes are on his appreciative audience) and catches him with two fingers in the air. Her eyes blazing, CALAMITY thrusts her glass into the hands of the nearest member of the crowd. RATTLESNAKE, suddenly "taking" her menacing attitude, starts in alarm. He starts to back away, stumbling towards the door.)

RATTLESNAKE: Gotta see to the hosses...

(CALAMITY grabs a whip from a BULLWACKER, and cracks it at RATTLESNAKE, stopping him cold.)

(NOTE: If the actress lacks skill with a whip, she can draw her gun and shoot at RATTLESNAKE's hat. If he snatches it off and pushes his forefinger through a pre-set hole in the hat, the effect of the shot can be established.)

CALAMITY: How many o' them Injuns d'you reckon I shot, Rattlesnake?

RATTLESNAKE (scared): Jest like you said--'bout thu'ty, I reckon, Calam!

CALAMITY: That's better... An' listen, yuh toothless ol' buffalo chip... Nex' time I tell a story, you keep yer hands in yer pockets!

(CROWD laughs. CALAMITY tosses whip back to BULLWHACKER or replaces gun in holster.)

DOC: Thirty's a lot of Injuns, Calam... Guess it must be the biggest kill you've had yet.

CALAMITY: Heck, no! Didn't I tell you 'bout when I was a scout in the army?

FIRST CHARACTER: No - tell us about it, Calam!

CROWDS (Ad Libs):

WOMAN: Go on, Calam -- tell us!

CALAMITY (embroidering as she goes along): Well, we was two days out of Leavenworth when down came a screamin', yellin' war-party... The soljers used up all their ammunition... Then the savages rode in for the kill-e-hurlin' tomahawks and circlin' round like they was plumb crazy... I knew what their game was, so I held fire till they got real close... Then I blazed away... Got most of 'em... A few lit out for the hills.

(The CROWD murmurs its admiration. BILL raises his eyes to the ceiling in frank disbelief, strolls over to the bar. CALAMITY, carried away by her exploit, continues.)

CALAMITY: Then I had to set about doctorin' up ev'ry one of them soljers. The major was hurt pretty bad, but I saved him. Took four arrows out of his hide. Poisoned ones.

FIRST CHARACTER: Didya really, Calam?

MEN (Ad-libs): You don't say! (Etc.)

CALAMITY: Sure was a brave man, that major... He gave me m'name - Calamity.... "You're a great one to have around in time of Calamity" - that's what he said...

COWBOY: He said that?

MEN (Ad-libs): Tell us some more, Calam... What else didya do?

FIRST CHARACTER: D'ja get a medal from the President for that?

CALAMITY: I got some sort of medal... And they made sure I went along with the troops every time ... You never knew when them Injuns 'd he lyin' in wait to send an arrow into yuh...

(She pauses as she catches sight of Bill's expression. He is gazing at her quizzically from the bar.)

What'ya lookin' like that for, Bill? Don't yuh believe me?

BILL: Sure... Only with you killin' off them redskins so fast, I wonder why the government bothered t'send the army out with you.

CALAMITY: You callin' me a liar again, Bill Hickock?

FIRST CHARACTER: 'Course she ain't lyin', Bill!

AD-LIBS: Tell us another, Calam! Tell us another!

No. 2. "CARELESS WITH THE TRUTH"

(CALAMITY, BILL and MEN)CALAMITY (spoken over intro): All right, fellers... If you want me to, I will...(Singing.)

Did I tell ya 'bout the time
That I was
Captured by a score or more
Of Cherokee and Chickasaw
A-fixin' for to scalp me
Just fer play?
Well, I just jumped upon
A buffalo-pulled off his horn
And blew it,
So a regiment from Idaho
Came on to save the day...
In honour of me
The President
Put a buffalo
On the nickel
And an Injun on the cent.

MEN: Ha, ha, ha, ha,
Ha, ha, ha, ha!

BILL: Tell us another one -
Tell us another one!
Oh, my aching tooth,
She's not exactly lyin'
But she's careless with the truth!

BILL: Careless! Careless!
MEN: Careless with the truth!
She's not exactly lyin'
But she's careless with the truth!

CALAMITY: Did I tell you 'bout the time
Last week: I'm
Herdin' cows at Cripple Creek
When all at once I see
Two hungry-lookin' grizzlies on each side of me
Well, I just wasn't in the mood to trifle;
Grabbin' up my huntin' rifle,
I let go with both the barrels
Neatest shot you see!
One bullet went north-the other south-
Shot one of 'em through the tail
And shot the other through the mouth!

MEN: Ha, ha, ha, ha,
Ha, ha, ha, ha!

BILL: Tell us another one --
Tell us another one!
Oh, my aching tooth,
She's not exactly lyin'
But she's careless with the truth!

BILL: Careless! Careless!
MEN: Careless with the truth!
She's not exactly lyin'
But she's careless with the truth!

CALAMITY: Did I tell you 'bout the time last fall:
I'm loggia' trees at Lake St. Paul;
And there I see an oak so tall
"Twould take a bird a day to reach the top!
Well, I start swingin' with my trusty axe,
And suddenly that oak tree cracks,
And up against another smacks
And down they come kerflop!
Believe it or not, I tell you, pards,
The rest of the forest folded up just like a deck of cards!

MEN: Ha, ha, ha, ha,
Ha, ha, ha, ha!

BILL: Tell us another one --
Tell us another one!
Oh, my aching tooth,
She's not exactly lyin'
But she's careless with the truth!

BILL: Careless! Careless!
MEN: Careless with the truth!
She's not exactly lyin'
But she's careless with the truth!

SCENE 1.2

(As the number ends, JOE enters, carrying a big box containing packets of cigarettes.)

JOE: Come and get 'em!

(The MEN swing round to him eagerly, with a shout.)

MEN: Cigareets!

(They gather excitedly round JOE, who proceeds to dole out the packets of cigarettes in exchange for their dollar bills.)

JOE: Here y'are - new batch - just come in on the stage-dollar a pack-ev'ry one with a pitcher-card!

(As the MEN get their cigarettes, they tear open the packets excitedly.)

CALAMITY: (in astonishment, to BILL) Jest look at 'em-snappin' for them cigareets like a bunch o' dudes! They must be cigareet-crazy!

BILL: It's the picture-cards--there's one special one they're all hankerin' after

(As the MEN extract the picture-cards from the packets, they shout with disappointment when they see what they've drawn.)

MEN [NO MICS FOR MOST]:

Abe Lincoln!
Danged Robert E. Lee!
Another General Grant!
Nuthin but Queen Victoria!
That ole show-boat again!
Who needs George Washington?

(Etc.)

(Some of the MEN throw away their picture-cards angrily and go back to JOE clamouring to buy another packet. Suddenly a young COWBOY shrieks with delight as he pulls out of his packet the sought-after picture-card)

COWBOY: Yippee! I got 'er! It's her! I got 'er!

(The other MEN crowd round him excitedly, peering at the card.)

MEN (Ad-Libs): Let's see, Buck! Show us! Come on, Buck--don't hog it!

MAN [MALCOLM – NO MIC]: Give yuh five dollars for it!

COWBOY: Wouldn't take fifty! Keepin' 'er right close to my heart!

(Ecstatically, he kisses the picture-card and puts it in the breast-pocket of his shirt. The others sigh, yearningly.)

CALAMITY: Goshamighty, Bill... What's gotten into 'em?

BILL: It's Adelaide, Calam... (sighs)...What's Adelaide, men?

CALAMITY: What's Adelaide?

BILL: What's Adelaide? ... (To Men.) What's Adelaide, men?

MEN (gathering round him): Ah! ...

BILL: A hope... a vision.. Y'see her carved on the prow of an ancient ship... in a gambler's cameo...

No. 3 "ADELAIDE"

(BILL and MEN)

BILL (continuing to speak over intro): In the dying embers of a camp-fire.. In this case she just happens to be the loveliest singin' and dancin' star of them all... Adelaide Adams!

(Singing)

If you gave a man a wish, ten to one
He would wish for that one perfect girl
Adelaide, Adelaide, Adelaide
Oh, how lovely you are!

MEN: If you gave a man a dream, ten to one
In his dreams he would hold only you;
Adelaide, Adelaide, Adelaide
You're his favourite star!

BILL: You've heard of Helen of Troy;
Of Aphrodite; Venus, too-

MEN (spoken ad-libs): Yeh-we heard o' them gals! Some dolls! 'They sure were classy dames!

BILL: -Beautiful dolls-but, oh boy,
They ain't just you... .

MEN: Mm
BILL: If you ever come to town, busting' out
In that gown made of silk and brocade,
They would have to hire a hall
Just to hide the guys who'd fall
For Adelaide!

BILL: Adelaide! Adelaide!
MEN: With the bustle that you wear, I declare
It's no wonder we're under your thumb!
Adelaide, Adelaide, Adelaide,
What a beauty you are!

With the way you fill your clothes, and your hose,
And that come-hither look in your eye,
It's of you that we think
With each whisky we drink at the bar!

BILL: The Queen of Sheba, and Cleopatra,
Just to name a few...
They wouldn't rate a second look
Compared to you...

BILL: If a man has any blood in his veins,
MEN: Then I reckon he's prayed, yes, he's prayed
That eventually he gets
In a pack of cigarettes,
His Adelaide!

SCENE 1.3

(As BILL has been singing the last few lines, he has taken out of his pocket a cigarette-card which he now hands to CALAMITY. The CROWD gradually disperses.)

BILL: Beautiful, ain't she?

CALAMITY (hostile): Ain't got nuthin' on but her underwear!

BILL: Tights, Calam!... She's a great actress, they tell me... Charmin'... Lovely figure...
Ev'rything a woman ought to be...

CALAMITY: Looks like a fat, frilled-up side o' undressed beef t' me. (Resentfully hands back the card.) An' I could look the same!... 'Cept I got certain ideas about modesty..

BILL: Ain't a man in town wouldn't ride a hundred miles for just one glimpse of Miss Adams!

CALAMITY: You, mebbe... and some o' the scum around here... A gentleman wouldn't look twice at such a picture!

BILL: A gentleman?... Like-er-like Danny Gilmartin, f'instance?

CALAMITY: None o' yer business.

BILL: Aw, c'mon, don't be bashful, Calam!... I know you're kinda sweet on the lootenant!... Now ain't you, Calam?

CALAMITY: Ain't saying till he does. (Suddenly concerned.) Where is Danny? Kinda thought he might be here to meet the stage...

BILL: On duty at the fort, I guess... Last time I saw him was a week ago... (Gives her a mischievous look.) He came in to buy a pack of cigareets...!

(CALAMITY does a resentful "take ". FRANCIS FRYER enters. He is a timid, flashily dressed actor-type from way-back-East, and visibly feeling miserable here-out-West. He carries a piece of luggage marked FRANCIS FRYER. He is being stalked by a "tame" INDIAN, who ominously watches his every move. BILL and CALAMITY eye him with amused speculation, as he moves, casting worried glances at the INDIAN, towards the hotel-desk. He taps on the desk-bell, and jumps nervously as it pings. He picks up a notice-card from the desk. His eyebrows shoot up as he glances at it. He looks appealingly at BILL.)

FRYER: Is-Is this on the level?

BILL strolls over to him.)

BILL: Means just what it says, sonny. (Takes card and reads it.) "Guests must leave their hair in the safe. The management cannot be responsible for lost scalps."

(BILL hands him back the card and moves away. The INDIAN moves closer to FRYER, fascinated by his get-up. When they are almost nose-to-nose, the INDIAN slowly pulls a knife from his belt. FRYER gives a yelp, and lifts his arms protectingly up to his head.)

FRYER: No! Don't! Don't! PLEASE!

(The INDIAN takes a plug of tobacco from his pocket, hacks off a chunk with his knife, outs the "chew " in his mouth, and impassively moves over to the bar. FRYER re-acts. SUSAN comes in from the office.)

SUSAN: Can I help you?

FRYER: I'm looking for Mister Miller, the proprietor-

SUSAN (noticing Fryer's luggage): Is your name Fryer?

FRYER: That's right-

CALAMITY (approaching): Say - you an actress?

FRYER: An actress? Why, no... no, I'm not... I'm. (MILLER bursts in. He is hot and angry.)

MILLER: Now look here, Calam! I've been all over town, and nobody's seen my actress. Now where is she? What've you done with her?

CALAMITY: Me?

SUSAN: Uncle! This gentleman here is-

MILLER: Not now, Susan-I've got a show tonight

FRYER: Are you Mister Miller?

MILLER: Later, young man. I'm expecting an actress

FRYER: You're expecting me

SUSAN: He's right, Uncle.

MILLER (not unkindly): Keep out of this, Susan... (To FRYER.) If you'll excuse me•

FRYER: You're looking for me. I'm him.

MILLER:· I don't care who you are. I'm not expecting anybody, except somebody who (giving FRYER a quick look-over) certainly isn't you! (Turns away). So please don't bother me. (Thinks, and turns back.) Look-you came by the stage. Wasn't she a passenger?

FRYER: Who?

MILLER: Who? Who? The lady we're talking about! Frances Fryer!

SUSAN: But that's who it is, Uncle!

CALAMITY: Whyrn't yuh listen, Millie?

FRYER: He won't pay attention.

MILLER (blankly): You're her?

FRYER: No, I'm not her. I'm-(Shows MILLER the name on his luggage.) Look!... Francis Fryer!

MILLER: You see! She must be here! (Grabs the luggage and starts off with it.) And I'm gonna search this town-

FRYER: Hey-wait! It's not a "her"-(MILLER halts.) The name's "Francis" with an "i"...

MILLER: The Frances I want's got two eyes-I hope-and I've gotta find her-

BILL: Haven't you got it yet, Millie? He's your actress-

CALAMITY: Lovely Francis Fryer...

MILLER (aghast, to FRYER): You're Francis -? (accusingly to the others.) He's no lady!

FRYER: That's what I keep telling you

SUSAN:--: There's been some mistake

CALAMITY: He's no dame, but he is lovely... Smile, Francis! Show 'em your dimples!

MILLER (To FRYER, angrily): You deceived me! You're tired! (Rescinds hastily.) No! You're not tired! I've got a show tonight, haven't I? I've got to have somebody! Go to your room. What room? Susan, do we have a room?

SUSAN: I'll see, Uncle (Goes over to hotel-register to consult it.)

FRYER: Mister Miller I'm sorry about the mistake... Maybe I'm not what you wanted, but I am a good song-and-dance man, and if you've got a show tonight I'd like to help out-if you'll give me the chance.

BILL: You can at least give him a chance, Millie.

CALAMITY: Let him show you what he can do!

FRYER: Yes--let me show you-

MILLER: What's the use? I'm ruined anyway-I advertised an actress

FRYER: But you can at least let me show you!...

No. 4.. "EV'RYONE COMPLAINS ABOUT THE WEATHER"

(FRYER)

(Sings.)

Oh, ev'ryone complains about the weather,
But nobody ever does anything about it!
Why don't they simply tell the fellas who complain:
"How could you sell umbrellas if there wasn't any rain?"
My friends, it all depends on Mother Nature;
The laws of compensation still apply;
The weather may be frightful
To 'most ev'ryone; but, shucks,
It couldn't be more delightful
From the point of view of ducks!
So, if you still complain about the weather,
Then why the devil don't you do something about it?

(Dance-optional.)

Oh, ev'ryone complains about the weather,
But nobody ever does anything about it!
Why don't they realise a very simple thing:
You've gotta have a winter if you wanna have a spring!
My friends, it all depends on Mother Nature;
The laws of compensation still apply;
Quit beefin' 'bout the showers
On a cloudy April day
And think of the fields of flowers
You'll be trippin' through in May I
So, if you still complain about the weather,
They why the devil don't you do something,
Then why the devil don't you do something,
Then why the devil don't you do something about it?

SCENE 1.4

(As he finishes the number, FRYER strikes a pose and looks appealingly at MILLER. CALAMITY and BILL applaud. SUSAN who transferred her attention from the hotel-register to FRYER the moment he started to perform, is now very much on his side.)

FRYER (to MILLER): Well, what do you say?

SUSAN (eagerly): There's one room left, Uncle...

MILLER (against his better judgment): Go up there and hide. Don't show your face. I'll have to think of something-

SUSAN (pleased): This way, Francis Fryer...

- (She leads FRYER off)

MILLER: With an "i". . . I tell you I'm ruined! (Crosses towards office.) When that crowd sees him tonight, instead of her-(points to poster)-they'll lynch me!

CALAMITY: You'll hafta do some tall explainin' sure 'nough. But he sure is good. (MILLER groans and exits into office.) Come on, Bill-yer kin buy me another sasperilly.

(As CALAMITY and BILL start to move over to the bar (where JOE has remained in attendance wiping glasses) some of the MEN enter, helping on Two Scouts-HANK and PETE. They are in poor shape-scarred and exhausted; their buckskins are begrimed and torn.)

CALAMITY (in consternation): Hank!... Pete!...

(She rushes over to them as more TOWNSPEOPLE enter.)

JOE: What happened to you?

CROWD (Ad-libs): What happened to you? Are you hurt bad? Take it easy now! (Etc.)

BILL: Get chairs for 'em!

(Chairs are brought forward, and HANK and PETE flop into them.)

CALAMITY: Who got yuh, fellas?

HANK: Injuns... War party..

PETE: There were five of us... Two surveyors and a Lootenant from the Fort... They jumped us at Eagle Pass... ·

CALAMITY: Lootenant? What · Lootenant?

HANK: Name o' Gilmartin-

CALAMITY (aghast): Gilmartin? They got Danny Gilmartin?

PETE: Darn near got him. His hoss went down-

CALAMITY: Where is he now? (In a sudden rage.) Didja leave him? To be tortured by them savages, mebbby? Why, y' slab-sided, yellow-bellied sons o' cowardly coyotes-! (almost in tears.) Y' left Danny like I wouldn't leave a hurt dog?

HANK: Simmer down, Calam! We didn't leave him. We got him on the wagon outside-

PETE: Aimin' to ride him to the Fort-

(CALAMITY is already on her way to the door.)

BILL: Calam-where y' goin'?

CALAMITY: To bring him in! D'ya think I'm gonna let him die out there? How 'bout somebody givin' me a hand?

(As she turns and hurries out, a COWBOY makes to follow her.)

BILL (to COWBOY [GARETH]): Better get Doc Pierce.

(BILL and COWBOY go out after CALAMITY. JOE has brought down a bottle of whisky, from which the SCOUTS now take swigs.)

PETE: He's wounded bad, that lootenant--

HANK: Them Injuns musta chased us for ten miles

PETE: Showerin' us with arrows--

HANK: The surveyors got 'em thick and fast. Musta died where they fell.

JOE: Calam's mighty fond of Danny Gilmartin. She'd never 've got over it if you'd left him out there on the trail...

(CALAMITY and BILL re-enter, between them supporting LIEUT. DANNY GILMARTIN. He is weak, dishevelled and bemuddled; his uniform is torn and dusty, and there is a blood stain on the shoulder where he has been wounded. Some of the MEN move to help to get to a chair. SUSAN has re-entered and runs to join the group around DANNY.)

CALAMITY: Easy, Danny, Easy... I'll fix y'up... You'll be okay... (to OTHERS.)...Stand off! Let him be! I can do this m' self, without no help. from no one!

(She loosens DANNY'S jacket and opens his shirt.)

BILL: You'll need some bandages, Calam... Got a petticoat?

CALAMITY: None o' yer business.

(In spite of her sharp answer, CALAMITY is nonplussed. SUSAN quickly supplies a piece of her own petticoat, and CALAMITY grudgingly accepts it. Then she grabs the whisky bottle from one of the Scouts, up-ends it to get some of the spirit on the cloth, and proceeds to dab DANNY's wounded shoulder. He winces.)

CALAMITY: Best durn use for whisky I can think of... There... Y're goin' to be all right once I get the wound cleaned... (She works fast and efficiently, and the Crowd watches admiringly)... Feelin' better already; ain't yuh?

DANNY: Thanks, Calam... Now let me get on to the Fort. I've got to report to the Colonel.

CALAMITY: You ain't goin' to budge till I get you fixed up... Goshamighty, I'd like to get my hands on them savages...

DANNY: Sure feels better now, Calam-

CALAMITY (applying bandage): Ain't the first time I've fixed something like this. remember once't when I-(she breaks off as she catches BILL'S eye.)

BILL: Well, go on, Calam. Tell us.

CALAMITY: Aw, forgit it. (To DANNY.) Lucky it warn't a poison-arrow. Them kind'll keep yuh danglin' between heaven and hell. (She finishes with the bandage.) There... Y're goin' to be good as new.

JOE (handing a packet of cigarettes to DANNY): Here's some smokes, Danny.

DANNY: Thanks, Joe.

(Doc PIERCE enters, and hurries to DANNY.)

CALAMITY: Now who sent for ole sawbones?. Somehow I don't think we'll be needin' yuh, Doc.

DOC: Better just take a look... (Examines DANNY'S shoulder)... Very good job... You can take over for me anytime, Calam... (To DANNY.) Get 'em to keep an eye on it when you get back to the Fort.

BILL: She's a regular Florence Nightingale, ain't she, Doc?

CALAMITY: Now who'd that be? You makin' fun o' me agin, Bill Hickock?

JOE: He paid y'a compliment, Calam. She was a great nurse.

BILL: And she wore petticoats.

(DANNY has found a picture-card of ADELAIDE ADAMS in his packet of cigarettes.)

DANNY: I got her! Adelaide Adams! I got her picture-look!

(He holds out picture-card for inspection-but CALAMITY snatches it from him, tears it up, and flings the pieces over her shoulder, disdainfully.)

CALAMITY: I ain't savin' you for no actress in long drawers.
(General laughter.)

(The CROWD breaks up-some to the bar, some out to the street. HANK and PETE get to their feet.)

HANK: We gotta get back to the Fort now, lootenant.

PETE: They'll be wanting to know what's happened.

DANNY: Sure thing-let's go.

CALAMITY: You don't think I'm trustin' yuh with them chicken-hearted scouts, do yuh?

DANNY: Shame on you, Calam-they brought me in, didn't they?

CALAMITY (grudgingly): Yeh-I guess so.... All the same I'd be worried to death. What if you run into another war-party?

DANNY (smiling): The Fort's not far away.

PETE: We got a wagon outside. He'll be mighty comfortable.

CALAMITY (stubbornly): I'm takin' him there myself! (To DANNY.) Here-put your good arm round me, Danny. Help him up, someone.

DANNY (painfully pulling himself up): I tell you I'm all right, now. Thanks anyway, Calam.

CALAMITY (placing his good arm round her): I don't want any argument, I'm comin' with yuh. (Keeping his arm tightly round her.) Now ain't that kinda cozy-like...?

DANNY (pulling away): I'm making this on my own, Calam. Get the wagon ready, Pete.

(PETE makes for door, but turns and waits.)

CALAMITY: What if that wound starts bleedin' agin, you stubborn mule? Who's goin' to take care of it?

(She makes to get DANNY'S arm round her again, but, at a quick sign from DANNY, HANK and PETE lift her bodily, carry her over to the bar, and sits her up on the counter. While this is being done, she protests vehemently.)

CALAMITY: Why, yuh scummy no-good pole-cats!... I'll skin the hide offen both o' yuh...!

DANNY (firmly): Jumping Jupiter, Calam! Stop it, will you? You're acting like a touchy old woman! I tell you I'm feeling fine now... (PETE starts for the door again. HANK goes to DANNY, and supports him. CALAMITY, sitting on the bar, looks sullen. DANNY'S reproachful expression softens.) You've done a great job, and I'm grateful... (gives her a big grin.) Next time I'm in, I'll buy you a sasp'rilly.

(PETE goes out, and DANNY follows, helped by HANK. The remainder of the CROWD disperses. Only BILL, who has been watching the scene with interest, remains with CALAMITY. She jumps down from the bar.)

BILL (meditating mischievously): "Like a touchy old woman" the man said... H'm... Maybe he's got something there

CALAMITY: Why, you... you...! BILL: Whyn't you ever fix yer hair?

(She reaches for something to throw at him, but thinks better of it. BILL laughs.)

CALAMITY: Men!...

No.5 "MEN!"

(CALAMITY)

CALAMITY: Men! Men! Horrible men!

I've said it before, and I'll say it again:
What I think of men you can't print in a book
Lucky the girl who has never been took!

*Married Couples
Enter*

Men! Men! Give 'em a chance,
They'll string you along with a song and a dance;
They'll slip you the wink with the pink lemonade But leave you as soon as the moon starts to fade!

*Single Men
Enter*

Oh, I do not choose to tarry,
In a bonnet of burberry blue;
And I don't propose to marry-
You can call off the minister;
I'll be a spinister!

~~Men! Men! Mischievous men!~~

~~Be on your guard when you stroll in the glen!
They'll ply you with trinkets and promise you pearls
Regarding their promises,
Do just as Momma says:
Be Doubting Thomases, girls!~~

~~Men! Men! Horrible word!
Show me the dove, and I'll give you the bird!
Just let a tenderfoot mention "l'amour"
Quick, like a flash, (twirls gun) I will give him the cure!~~

Males! Males! Rip-roarin' males!
 Frisky from whisky, and fillin' up jails!
 A five-dollar wager will get you a ten-
 No Deadwood coyote will hog-tie this hen!

Single Men are made to breed confusion;
Ladies Love is wois'n a poisonous bite;
Enter So I've come to this conclusion:
 I don't want any part of 'em
 Oh, the black heart of 'em!

~~Down! Down! Down with 'em all!~~

~~_____ The cow punchin' type, or the tenderfoot tall;
 _____ Mule headed men who are mentally ten;
 _____ Pluggable, pinchable,
 _____ Huggable, clinchable,
 _____ Lovable, lynchable men!~~

~~_____ Men have got a sort of nose fer
 _____ Any chicken who's kickin' around;
 _____ And I reckon, ma'am, that goes fer
 _____ Ev'ry masculine resident,
 _____ Up to the President!~~

Hi-ho! Song and a Dance;
 Trouble comes double in buckskin and pants!
 When Adam begat, all the troubles began-
 So now that we've finally hollered our heads off
 And dished all the dirt that we can,
 For Pete's sake-

(Orchestral effect.)

Send us a man!!

(During the latter part of the foregoing number, the stage has gradually filled with people beginning with a few COWBOYS who enter on the line "Males! Males! Rip-roarin' males! " CALAMITY addresses the line that follow to them, and to OTHERS who enter soon after. On the line "Down! Down! Down with 'em all! Some GIRLS enter, followed by the STAGE-COACH PASSENGERS, then all remaining available MEMBERS OF THE CHORUS, RATTLESNAKE, Doc PIERCE and SUSAN. CALAMITY works the end of the number to the CROWD, addressing words "and I reckon, ma'am "a LADY STAGE-COACH PASSENGER. The PEOPLE, in gay mood, are highly amused by CALAMITY'S song, and re-act with smiles and laughter. At the end, they applaud good-humouredly. BILL takes CALAMITY to the bar for a drink. The ORCHESTRA plays a CHORD (the CHORD which opens Music No. 7 can be used), and MILLER appears on the stage, looking nervous and harassed.)

(NOTE: If practical, the "stage" should have an "oleo", or painted canvas drop-cloth which winds up on a roller from the bottom. Alternatively, but less authentically, some form of draw-tabs can be used. The "stage" sequence can, however, be presented perfectly well without any "curtain" at all. If a "curtain" is used, either MILLER speaks in front of it, and it rises for the appearance of the CAN-CAN GIRLS, or it can be raised now to reveal HENRY MILLER on the stage.)

SCENE 1.5

(MILLER raises his arms to quieten the CROWD as he makes his announcement.)

MILLER: Gentlemen!... Gentlemen!... Oh, and of course you ladies, too.. (The CROWD cheers and applauds.) Quiet, now!... Your attention, everybody, if you please!... Presenting The Golden Garter Show!

(More cheers and applause as the ORCHESTRA strikes up.)

(Note: If desired, the "Can-Can" may be omitted completely, in which case MILLER, instead of announcing "The Golden Garter Show as above, cuts straight to the build-up to "Miss Frances Fryer" which comes after the "Can-Can" ¹¹⁾

No. 6 THE CAN-CAN

. (DANCERS)

(MILLER exits rapidly as the CAN-CAN DANCERS enter and start their Routine. They appear on the "stage" singly, or in couples, or in threes; but they can come down to a space cleared for them by the "audience" on ^{real} stage-level for the main part of the Dance, the end of which should be arranged so that they make their Exits via the "stage Presentation of this number must depend on and vary according to the size of the "stage" and the number of DANCERS. The performance of the "CAN-CAN" gets a big reaction from the MEN throughout, and as the GIRLS make their Exits there is cheering and whistling.)

(MILLER re-appears on the stage)

MILLER: And now... Quiet, please!.... And now... in keeping with the policy of The Golden Garter, which always strives to bring to Deadwood the best in entertainment, it is my great pleasure to present to you that lovely star-the toast of New York - Miss Frances Fryer!

No. 7 HIVE FULL OF HONEY

(FRYER)

(CHORD--and the CROWD cheers and applauds wildly. As the orchestra starts the VAMP, FRYER, dressed racy as a woman and wearing a braided wig, is propelled suddenly on to the stage by an offstage shove. He starts with frightened eyes at the audience, which quietens immediately out of sheer shock. He starts the number somewhat unconvincingly, but gains confidence as he proceeds.)

(In a woman's voice).

FRYER: I've got two wonderful arms,
I've got two wonderful lips,
I'm over twenty-one, and I'm free;
Oh, I've got a hive full of honey
For the right kind of honey-bee!

I'm not the glamorous type.
But I'm the amorous type;
You'll love the way I fit on your knee;
Yes, I've got a hive full of honey
For the right kind of honey-bee!

(At this point in the refrain, the AUDIENCE, having recovered from its initial shock, begins to murmur incredulously and resentfully. CALAMITY and BILL exchange meaningful looks. MILLER has joined SUSAN, and they are watched apprehensively as FRYER comes down from the "stage" and moves in "night-club-queen" fashion among the MEN-"teasing" them.)

My daddy owns a railroad,
And my ma is a millionaire,
And, besides, I'm an only child-
Do you think you could learn to care?

If I'm the one you adore,
Come on and get me before
Somebody shakes it down from the tree•
Oh, I've got a hive full of honey
For the right kind of honey-bee!

(Warming to his work, and realising that as a female-impersonator he's pretty good, FRYER starts the second refrain with increased elan.)

I've got two wonderful arms,
I've got two wonderful lips,
I'm over twenty-one and I'm free;
Oh, I've got a hive full of honey
For the right kind of honey bee..

(Continuing his "flirtations" with the customers, FRYER has made a pass at a COWBOY [GARETH] who has responded rather too amorously. FRYER now gives him a push which send him sprawling, but in doing so his wig becomes dislodged. Before he can sing any more, the CROWD starts yelling and booing-and FRYER, in a panic, retreats hastily to the "stage", where he is joined by MILLER, who attempts to quieten the howling audience.)

SCENE 1.6

MILLER: Please! Everybody! I can explain! Quiet! Quiet! Please! Now listen! Listen!-

(As the uproar momentarily subsides.)

MILLER (continues): He's a great actor... He's-

(His voice is drowned by renewed shouting and booing, as the MEN in the AUDIENCE advance threateningly towards the "stage".)

COWBOY: You're a fake, Miller!

MEN (Ad-libs): Tricked us, that's what! Palmin' us off with that critter! Just a yappin' prairie dog! Y'oughta be run outa town! (Etc.)

(CALAMITY fires her gun in the air and climbs on to a table.)

CALAMITY (yelling over the uproar): Quiet! Quiet! Listen to me, you mangy groundhogs! (She fires her gun into the air again, and silences the CROWD.) That ain't no way to treat Millie! Y'wouldn't have no theeyter nohow if it wasn't fer him! Cain't a feller make a mistake in this town?

COWBOY [GARETH]: We ain't suckers! He promised us a New York actress-and look what we got! (Points to FRYER, who is standing frightened and despondent at the corner of the "stage".)

CALAMITY: Yuh got what he got! (CROWD protests.) He knows how disappointed y'are! Give him a chance and he'll make it up t'yuh... Won't you, Millie?

MILLER: Sure! Anything!

COWBOY [GARETH]: How'll he do that?

MEN (angry ad-libs): Fooled us once-he'll do it agin! He's a fake! (Etc.)

CALAMITY: He will, I tell ya! He'll git yuh an actress prettier'n the one y'expected! He's writ fer her already!

DOC: Who's he gonna git?

MEN (Ad-libs): What actress? Who is she? (Etc.)

(Trapped, CALAMITY has to stall-looking at MILLER who is surreptitiously but frantically trying to signal to her to desist.)

CALAMITY: Waal... A big one... A plumb big one... the biggest there is...

MEN (in chorus): Who?

CALAMITY: Well... why... er...

DOC: Adams? D'ya mean Adelaide Adams?

(As the CROWD responds to this suggestion with prompt and noisy enthusiasm)

CALAMITY (carried away): Yeah! That's who! Adelaide Adams! That's who he's sent fer!

(As a delighted yell goes up.)

DOC: Okay-we'll give y'a chance, Millie! A chance to get Adelaide Adams!...But you'd better git her!

(Another excited shout goes up as the CROWD breaks up and disperses, talking and arguing noisily among themselves as they go. BILL helps CALAMITY down from the table, as MILLER, wild-eyed, bears down on them.)

MILLER (anguished): So I've got to get Adelaide Adams... You just signed my death warrant.

CALAMITY: Look, Millie-

MILLER: I think I'll take a long walk off a short precipice.. (Exit to office.)

CALAMITY (calling after him): Millie...!

BILL (gently): Calam...

CALAMITY (anxiously): Now don't you start, Bill! I had to-• BILL: I know. You meant well... Better talk to him...

(He bustles CALAMITY off after MILLER, leaving FRYER and SUSAN.)

SUSAN: You mustn't blame yourself... It was Uncle's idea.

FRYER: I felt sure those men were going to lynch me - I could see myself hanging out there-all alone-maybe scalped, too I (He shudders.)

SUSAN: Anything might have happened-if it hadn't been for Calamity... The way those men yelled...

FRYER: Wait till they find out there'll be no Adelaide Adams I She's in Chicago - a big star I She wouldn't be seen dead in a town like this! What on earth was Calamity thinking of-promising she'd come to Deadwood?

SUSAN: She was trying to help Uncle...

FRYER: Help him?... I don't know what I'm doing here anyway. I certainly don't want to be around when they find out there'll be no Adelaide Adams. Suppose those men come after me tonight-when I'm asleep? If I get any sleep? I wouldn't even know where to find the Marshall.

SUSAN: We don't have a Marshall.

FRYER (weakly): No Marshall...?

SUSAN: He was shot last week.

FRYER: Huh...?

SUSAN: They offered the job to Wild Bill Hickock, but he turned it down. I wish he'd take it. He's the one man they respect out here... (sudden inspiration.) Can you shoot?

FRYER ("take"): Me ... I don't know one end of a gun from the other!

SUSAN: Too bad... It helps to know how to use a gun in this wild country. Take Wild Bill. He can shoot to kill two ways at one time-over either shoulder... If only Uncle had explained the mistake!-I mean about you being "Francis" with an "i" -

FRYER: I never did like the name anyway. My mother was hoping for a girl, and had "Frances" all picked out. It was a big blow to her when I arrived-but there was no changing her mind about the name.

SUSAN: I like it. At least it's different. For a man, I mean.

FRYER: I guess there's nothing to do now but leave town... D'you think they'd let me?... I mean, alive?

SUSAN: If I were you I'd stay right here and show them how good you really are. You're not a quitter... are you?

FRYER: I don't know... I'd like to live...

(MILLER comes out of the office-still in a flap. CALAMITY and BILL, still in the process of trying to calm him, follow him on-stage.)

MILLER: Why does everything have to happen to me?... (Sees FRYER and winces.) Would you mind getting out of my sight?

FRYER: N-n-not at all! G-g-glad to--{exit}.

SUSAN (chidingly): It wasn't Mister Fryer's fault, Uncle! He just didn't have a chance in that get-up. He'd have won them over if you'd let him do his own act! I think you owe him an apology! He's a very good performer! (Exit.)

MILLER (looking round, wildly): Do you think they'll break the place up before they lynch me, or after?... Adelaide Adams!... If you'd promised them any other actress-

CALAMITY: I don't know any other actresses.

BILL: Now you know why they call her "Calamity".

CALAMITY (turning on BILL): Listen, y' two-bit gambler! I didn't see you breakin' no legs to come up with a suggestion when the chips were down! This Adelaide was what the men called fer, wasn't she?

MILLER: What do I do?

CALAMITY: Y' got a theeayer, ain't yuh? What's t' stop yuh from gittin' this Adelaide anyhow? This joint's the biggest gold-mine in Deadwood! Why don't yuh send fer 'er?

MILLER: Sure! Why don't I send for the Queen of Sheba?

CALAMITY: Can we get her? (As BILL reacts.) No good... They want Adelaide.

BILL (smiling sweetly): Millie... Nuthin's impossible for Calamity. Didn't she save the stage from a hundred savage Injuns? And didn't she save a squad of Government Troops from a war-party, like she said?

CALAMITY (doubtfully): Yuh believe me, don't yuh, Bill?

BILL: Why, sure!... And if you gave the boys your word Adelaide Adams would be here... well... (turning to MILLER.) Millie, Calam's word is her bond.

(Taken in, CALAMITY mistakes BILL's sarcasm for a compliment and glows.)

CALAMITY: You... really got that much faith in me; Bill?

BILL: Who knows you better'n me, Calam?

CALAMITY: Y' mean y' truly believe I could to t' Chicagy an' bring Adelaide Adams back here?

BILL: If you can't nobody else could. Besides, y' gave your word.

MILLER: Are you two crazy? Talking about bringing Adelaide Adams back here? You both out of your heads?

CALAMITY: Bill says I can.. an' I gave my word... didn't I, Bill?

BILL (change of tone): Sure... and I can trust that 'bout as much as I do a blind rattlesnake with a brand-new button on his tail. (Moves away.)

CALAMITY (furious at being taken in): Why, you no-good, mangy, four-flushin'-! (Yells at him.) I'll show yer, Bill Hickock! I'll get that dame-I'll bring her here if I hafta drag 'er all the way with m' teeth! (BILL laughs.) (To MILLER.) Go find Rattlesnake. Tell him to git the stage ready! We're headin' for Chicagy!

MILLER: Now look... Well, I mean... See here, Calam

CALAMITY: Don't just stand there!... Do as I say!

(MILLER looks helplessly at BILL, who is smiling knowingly.)

MILLER: I don't know what I'm doing-but I'm doing it-• (MILLER exits at a run.)

BILL: While y're in Chicago, Calam, notice the women. How they act, and what they wear. Git y'self some female clothes and fixin's. Dresses, ribbons, combs, mebbe some perfume-

CALAMITY: If yuh don't like the way I smell-

BILL: This ain't personal. It's only... waal... If y'veer crawled out of that deer hide and dolled up a little, I got a hunch y'd be a passable pretty gal...

CALAMITY: Save yer hunches fer females who get their pitchers took in long under• wear-like Adelaide Adams! I ain't one of 'em! Ain't nuthin' you say means anythin' ter me!

No. 8 "I CAN DO WITHOUT YOU"

CALAMITY: (CALAMITY and BILL)

CALAMITY: In the summer, you're the winter-
In the finger, you're the splinter!
In the banquet you're the stew-say!-
I can do without you!

BILL: In the garden, you're the nettle-
And the mildew on the petal!
Like an overturned canoe-well!-
I can do without you!

CALAMITY: You can go to Philadelphia-
Take a hack to Hackensack-hey!
I '11 never ring a bell fer ya,
Or yell fer ya
To come back!

In the question, you're the why-

BILL: -In the ointment you're the fly!

CALAMITY: Though I know some things are Indispensable, like a buck or two,
If there's anything I can do without,
I can do without you!

BILL: In the barrel, you're the pickle-
In the gold mine you're the nickel!
You're the tack inside my shoe-yup!-
I can do without you!

CALAMITY: In my bosom, you're the dagger-
You're a mangy carpet-bagger!
In the theatre you're the boo!
I can do without you!

BILL: You have charms-they're not bewitchin' me-
You've a face no one would paint-

CALAMITY: I've got the damdest itch in me
To be wherever you ain't!

BILL: I'm the bullfrog-you're the croak-

CALAMITY: -In the forest, poison oak-

BILL: Though I know some things are necessary,
 My half-pint buckaroo,
 If there's one thing I can do without,
 I can do without you!
 (Music continues under dialogue; RATTLESNAKE enters.)

RATTLESNAKE (as he enters): Stage is all ready, Calam!

CALAMITY: Then let's get the old schooner rollin'...

(As she makes to go, MILLER enters after RATTLESNAKE.)

MILLER: Salary's no object! Promise her anything-only bring her here!

CALAMITY: I'll bring her... (to BILL) and I hope you like her when I've brung her!

(Singing.)

I shall- hate 'er!

BILL: 'Cos she's pretty?

CALAMITY (in a rage): See you later!

BILL: More's the pity!

BOTH: I can do without you!

(As CALAMITY slams angrily out of the door, BLACK-OUT.)

END OF SCENE

FRONT TABS

(SEGUE: Music No. 9, during which the backing of the next set is dropped in and the props moved on.)

ACT ONE, SCENE 2

ADELAIDE'S DRESSING-ROOM IN THE BIJOU THEATRE, CHICAGO.

LIGHTS and CURTAIN UP at FIGURE 3 in the score-if practical; otherwise as soon after as may be.

This is a small, down-stage set, with the backing representing the wall of a Star Dressing-Room of the period. The amount of furniture and number of props will be dictated by the depth of stage available and the practicalities of setting quickly. The minimum requirements would seem to be a dressing-table and chair, a long mirror and a rack of ADELAIDE'S stage-dresses. Optionally: hat-boxes, bouquets of flowers, etc.

When the curtain rises, ADELAIDE is seated at the dressing-table putting the finishing touches to her off-stage appearance. KATIE is hanging up the stage-dress which her employer has just taken off.

The VOICES of Four STAGE-DOOR-JOHNIES can be heard off-stage. A couple of them are chanting "We want Adelaide"; another is giving an off-key rendering of the "Harry" song; another is chanting "Why are we waiting..." (This off-stage clamour is quite short, and completely ad-lib.) The Music fades out when the dialogue and action start.

ADELAIDE: All right, Katie. You can let them in now.

KATIE: Yes, Miss Adams.

(She admits the Four STAGE-DOOR-JOHNIES. They are in evening dress and very effusive. They gather round ADELAIDE excitedly.)

JOHNIES (Ad-libs): Adelaide, darling-you were stupendous! Superb-magnificent! Never better, my dear! There's no one to touch you!

ADELAIDE: You're very kind... It's been lovely... But all good things must come to an end, you know... (Despondent protests from the JOHNIES.)... And I'm afraid I have to leave Chicago right away... (More protests from the JOHNIES.)... So I'm sure you'll excuse me... Last Nights are always exhausting, and I'm very tired--

1st JOHNNIE (MALCOLM): Oh, but we've something to ask you-

2nd JOHNNIE (GARETH): A special favour-

ADELAIDE: Now, boys: I can't make any supper-date for tonight. I'm practically on my way-to Europe-

3rd JOHNNIE (CHRIS HEELEY): That's why we simply had to come-

4th JOHNNIE (SEAN): Before you vanished-maybe for ever-!

ADELAIDE: I'll be back-some day--

1st JOHNNIE (MALCOLM): That's just it-when?

2nd JOHNNIE (GARETH): How can we wait?

3rd JOHNNIE (CHRIS HEELEY): We want you to sing us one last chorus of "Harry"-

4th JOHNNIE (SEAN): Just one more-specially for us--

JOHNNIES (Ad-libs-together): Please, Adelaide-Darling, you must- To remember you by-
Just one more chorus-

ADELAIDE (cutting them short): "Harry"-? But I've just sung it about five times

JOHNNIES (Ad-libs-together): Yes, we know, but-Just once more-Specially for us-Please,
Adelaide-

(Secretly, ADELAIDE is seething, but her "pro" instincts overcome her annoyance, and she smiles at them with sudden pseudo-sweetness.)

ADELAIDE: Oh, very well... But this is definitely my farewell performance!...

No. IO. " IT'S HARRY I'M PLANNING TO MARRY"
(ADELAIDE and the JOHNNIES)

ADELAIDE: When you tum to the subject of Harry,
That's a horse of a diffrent safari;
He can box like a fox, He's as dumb as an ox,
But it's Harry I'm planning to marry!

JOHNNIES: Yes, It's Harry she's planning to marry!

ADELAIDE: Though he's built like the bust of Apollo,
Just remember a statue is hollow.
Physic'lly, he's delish-
Mentally, superfish,
But it's Harry I'm planning to marry!

JOHNNIES: Yes, it's Harry she's planning to marry!

ADELAIDE: My heart's twined about his suspenders;
He's the one that I truly adore;
I'm numb-I succumb-when he renders
"The Face On The Bar-Room Floor"
When he flexes his muscles,
I flutter Like a butterfly caught in a shutter;
When he calls me his mate,
I just disintegrate-
So it's Harry I'm planning to marry!
Since the world first began-

JOHNNIES: Since the world first began

ADELAIDE: - Never been such a man•

JOHNNIES: - Never been such a man•

ADELAIDE { -Who could love like he can,
So it's Harry I'm planning to marry!

JOHNNIES Harry! Harry! Harry!
-Planning to marry!

SCENE 2.1

(As the number ends, the JOHNNIES applaud ADELAIDE ecstatically.)

JOHNNIES (Ad-libs): Bravo-e-bravo-! That was great-! You're just wonderful-! Marvellous!

ADELAIDE: And now, boys, if you'll excuse me--

1st JOHNNIE (MALCOLM): Be sure and come back to us as soon as you can- (ADELAIDE is now gently but firmly ushering them out.)

ADELAIDE: I certainly will-

2nd JOHNNIE (GARETH): Chicago won't be the same-

3rd JOHNNIE (CHRIS HEELEY): Don't you dare say "goodbye "--

4th JOHNNIE (SEAN): Just "au-revoir "-

ADELAIDE (sweetly): All right- "au revoir" it is-thanks a million-be seeing you-au-revoir, au-revoir

(Now the JOHNNIES are off, and ADELAIDE stands for a moment, then turns.)

ADELAIDE (tetchily):... Goodbye! (Moves back to dressing-table to fix her make-up and put on her hat.) Ninnies...

KATIE (protesting gently): Oh, Miss Adams!... They really admire you!... Everybody does!... Don't you like being admired? I'd love it--

ADELAIDE: It gets very boring. These last few weeks have been hell-

KATIE: Oh, how can you say that? They've been wonderful! The theatre packed every night--parties--they've worshipped you here-

ADELAIDE: Chicago's primitive-and so are the people. I can't wait to get away... Think of it, Katie: London... Paris... Vienna..

KATIE: How I envy you!... Maybe some day I'll be on the stage... Oh, not a grand and beautiful star like you, Miss Adams, but just to sing a song, maybe.... (self-consciously) I can dance... and sing a little...

ADELAIDE: I know, darling. I've heard you. Very nice for choirs, and weddings... but I doubt if it would ever carry beyond the footlights. (She admires herself in the mirror.) There now... How do I look?

KATIE: Beautiful, Miss Adams. Just beautiful! (She hands ADELAIDE her stole, handbag, etc.) Even if I never sang by myself... If I could just be in the chorus... Couldn't you suggest it to somebody, sometime?

ADELAIDE: Katie you're not serious? Not really? It isn't only your voice...I mean, your... (Sire surveys KATIE's figure)... Your other equipment's hardly adequate, is it? (Smiles sweetly.) `Never mind... Cheer up... I might send for you when I get to Paris... Goodnight, darling.

KATIE: (trying to conceal her hurt): Goodnight, Miss Adams...

ADELAIDE (on way out): Oh, Katie... I'm buying a whole new wardrobe, so get rid of those tired old rags, will you? (Indicates her stage-costumes.) Sell them, or something. I make you a present of them... (gaily) 'Bye now! (Exit)

KATIE: 'Bye...

(Pensively, KATIE moves over to the rack of stage-costumes, selects one, and drapes it against herself, examining the effect in the mirror. She is not displeased. In fact, she's quite intrigued. She strikes an Adelaide Adams pose, and tries to imitate her voice and manner as she starts to sing.)

No. 10a. REPRISÉ: "IT'S HARRY I'M PLANNING TO MARRY"

(KATIE)

KATIE: When you turn to the subject of Harry,
That's a horse of a diff'rent safari;
He can box like a fox,
He's as dumb as an ox,
But it's Harry I'm planning to marry!

Though he's built like the bust of Apollo,
Just remember a statue is hollow.
Physic'lly, he's delish-
Mentally, superfish,
But it's Harry I'm planning to--

SCENE 2.2

(CALAMITY enters, and KATE catches sight of her reflection in the mirror. She breaks off and gives a scream of alarm. CALAMITY whips out a gun and swings round to face the way she has just come in-with her gun raking about menacingly.)

CALAMITY: Where are they? Where are the varmints? (Seeing nobody, she turns back to KATIE.) You don't want ter do things like that, Marm... I thought there was a posse after me! (She puts her gun away.)

KATIE: Wh-who are you?

CALAMITY: Just call me Calamity-most folks do. Came all the way from Deadwood City t'see yuh.

KATIE: Wh-what do you want?

CALAMITY: Gonna try and talk yuh into gain' back with me. (Gazing at KATIE with admiration.) Goshamighty, y're the purtiest thing I ever seen. Never knowed a women could look like that! (Notices the strapless dress that KATIE is holding, and is mystified.) Say... How'd y'ever hold up a dress like that?

(She advances to examine the dress, and KATIE backs away in alarm.)

KATIE: Please... Would you mind... I'm...

CALAMITY: Gonna climb into that thing? Sure-I'll help ya I

(CALAMITY makes to unhook KATIE'S dress. In a sudden panic, KATIE slaps CALAMITY'S face. Infuriated, CALAMITY gives KATIE a push.)

CALAMITY (fiercely): I've plugged men fer less than that!

KATIE: If you don't get out of here this instant, Mister Calamity, or whatever your name is

-

CALAMITY: "Mister"-? (Laughs.) Yuh thought I was a man? (Sobers suddenly.) Comet' think of it, that ain't funny. (She glares at herself in the mirror, pulling off her hat.)

KATIE: Those clothes... the guns... and everything...

CALAMITY (now painfully self-conscious): Reckon I do look a mite strange to a lady like you... Even without the clothes, I ain't much to look at... (Defensively.) But there ain't a woman in the world I can't outride, or outshoot, or-

KATIE: I'm sorry I made a mistake-

CALAMITY: Think nuthin' of it... Maybe if I got me some pretty dresses, an' fixin's, an'... (again looks at herself in the mirror, frustrated.) Aw-what's the use? Ev'ryone can't have a figger like Adelaide Adams.

KATIE (resentfully, remembering ADELAIDE'S comment on her own figure): That's a matter of. opinion.

CALAMITY: Well, in the opinion of Deadwood City, there ain't no other opinion... Now let's get down to business. I'd like to hire yuh-t' come and sing in Deadwood.

KATIE: Me?

CALAMITY: I got a lot o' nerve askin', I know... Deadwood ain't no Chicago, and the Golden Garter ain't no grand theeayter like this one... But they want you mighty bad, and I gave m' word I'd persuade ya, so... guess y' can name yer own price.

KATIE: Why-er-the salary's not important-it's just-that is-you're sure you mean me?

(From her pocket, CALAMITY produces a cigarette-picture, and shows it to KATIE.)

CALAMITY: Ev'ry bullwhacker and prospector in the Territory's chewin' hisself sick on that danged cigareet tobacco, just t' git a pitcher of yuh.

KATIE (turning from the picture, disappointed): Oh... for a moment I thought...

CALAMITY: What?

KATIE: Oh, nothing... I was just being stupid... You'd better go back and tell Deadwood that Miss Adams is sorry, but she's going to Europe.

CALAMITY: Couldn't ya sorta put that off-till after y' played Deadwood?

(KATIE gazes at CALAMITY as a wild idea strikes her. She looks at herself in the mirror again, with the Adelaide Adams dress held up against herself.)

KATIE (breathlessly, to herself): Maybe I could do it, at that...

CALAMITY: Y'could?

KATIE: I mean... I was just thinking... Is that picture the only one they have of-of me, in Deadwood?

CALAMITY: Reckon so, Marm.

KATIE: Where is Deadwood?

CALAMITY: South Dakota... m the Black Hills.

KATIE: Indians?

CALAMITY: Well... yeah... Sioux. But you needn't worry 'bout Injuns when y're travelling with Calamity Jane.

KATIE: Trains go there?

CALAMITY: Not for a hundred miles or more... but the ole stage ain't too discomfortin', an'-

KATIE: No telegraph?

CALAMITY: Not yet... But if y' wanted to send a letter or anythin'-

KATIE: Oh no-I wouldn't!... In fact this place is out in the wilds-cut off-and nobody in-say-New York-or Europe would ever hear who went there-or what was going on?

CALAMITY: 'Fraid that's right, marm, but y' see

KATIE (to herself); Sounds just right for me...

CALAMITY: Huh?

KATIE: In any case, if I don't accept, you'll pull out those guns, and force me to go with you, won't you?

CALAMITY: Now, Miss Adams... really, marm...

KATIE: If I refuse to leave with you right now, you'll just poke a gun in my back, and march me to the railroad station-isn't that right?

CALAMITY: Now wait! I never said-

KATIE: I'm completely at your mercy! (She rushes over to the rack, and starts collecting the stage-dresses.) Come on! Help me pack! I'm going to Deadwood!

CALAMITY (dazed): I got a strange feelin' somebody's bein' hustled...

BLACK-OUT

END OF SCENE

FRONT TABS

Music No. 11. (NOTE: The music provided in the score for the scene-change (back to the first set) does not have to be played in its entirety. If the Dressing-Room set and props can be struck in less time than this amount of music takes to play, it would add to the pace of the show if a cut were made. The repeat of the first 14 bars can be omitted; alternatively, the orchestra can start at Figure 1, or even at Figure 2. Figure 3 is the cue for the rise of the curtain on the next scene.)

ACT ONE SCENE 3

THE GOLDEN GARTER

CURTAIN UP at FIGURE 3 in the score.

This is the same set as Scene 1, except that the poster advertising "Miss FRANCES FRYER" has been replaced by an even more highly coloured one announcing "ADELAIDE ADAMS - WELCOME TO DEADWOOD!" Optionally, an additional banner can read "HI-YA, ADELAIDE! " or some similar legend.

The Curtain rises as the mood of the music changes-to match the glum expressions on the faces of the MEN (including the MALE PRINCIPALS) who are grouped on the stage to make a still picture of communal depression.

SOLO TENOR: If you gave a man a wish, ten to one
He would wish for that one perfect girl-

MEN: Mm ... Mm

SOLO TENOR: Adelaide, Adelaide, Adelaide,
Oh, how lovely you are!
If you gave a man a dream, ten to one
In his dreams he would hold only you;
Adelaide, Adelaide, Adelaide,
You're our favourite star!

(Music continues under dialogue.)

DANNY: Tempting providence, Millie-that's what it was, putting up all that stuff-
(indicates poster and banner.)

BILL: You must a'been plumb crazy to think Adelaide Adams would come to a one-eyed-

MILLER (resentfully): It's Joe that's plumb crazy-he talked me into it! Said I couldn't risk not billing her-

JOE: You know Calam! She said she'd bring this dame, and it wouldn't surprise me none if she walked in right this minute and said-

(Music CUTS OFF as CALAMITY ENTERS.)

CALAMITY: Well, boys-I've brung 'er!

MEN: What???

(With a smug grin, CALAMITY stands to one side and beckons-and KATIE appears, and stands looking into the GOLDEN GARTER somewhat nervously. She wears a stylish travelling coat and a fetching bonnet, and the touch of shyness in her manner adds to her charm. At the sight of her, the MEN gasp-and then "suddenly burst out singing".)

MEN: If you gave a man a wish, ten to one
He would wish for that one perfect girl
Adelaide, Adelaide, Adelaide,
Oh, how lovely you are!

Now that you have come to town
You can bet all the town
Will be out on parade-
We shall have to hire a hall
Just to hold the guys who'll fall
For Adelaide!

SCENE 3.1

(By now, KATIE, still looking dazed and nervous, has been brought downstage by CALAMITY, who is smiling proudly. In the excitement, CALAMITY has not yet noticed DANNY, on the fringe of the group of MEN. During the ensuing dialogue, some of the GIRLS enter-beckoning on their friends. Eventually, all the LADIES OF THE CHORUS are on stage, intrigued at the sight of KATIE, and' commenting among themselves. SUSAN enters from the office-and joins MILLER, who can hardly contain his excitement, RATTLESNAKE enters with KATIE'S luggage (marked "A..A") He hovers upstage.

CALAMITY (beaming): Well, y' mangy pack o' dirt-scratchin' beetles, I kept. m' promise!
(To BILL as he comes forward.) "Calam's word is her bond" ..Ain't that right, Bill?

(Like all the MEN, BILL has eyes only for KATIE, and he answers CALAMITY almost absently.)

BILL: Yeah, Calamity... sure. (To KATIE.) Y'r servant, ma'am... Bill Hickock.

KATIE: Wild Bill Hickock?

BILL: If I am... you could tame me...

(There is a reaction from the MEN. Note DANNY approaches KATIE, and CALAMITY starts in surprise.)

CALAMITY: Danny! You feelin' okay now...?

(But in the hubbub, DANNY has not heard.)

DANNY (to KATIE): Lootenant Daniel Gilmartin Yours to command, Miss Adams..

KATIE: Well, thank you.. thank you very much

(MILLER bubbles over.)

MILLER: Miss Adams!... I'm Henry Miller, proprietor of the Golden Garter, and I can't say how proud and happy... It's a great honour!... My little theatre isn't exactly-well, it's not the kind you're-but you came! A true artist! You came! You're here!

KATIE: Yes... I... I'm here...

(FRYER has been standing by, looking at KATIE with a questioning look on his face. As MILLER notices him.)

MILLER: Oh... allow me... (Draws the reluctant FRYER forward.) ... Miss Adams, permit me to introduce a fellow thespian, also from back east... Mister Francis Fryer...

KATIE: How d'you do, Mister Fryer... (looking at him with faint recollection.) Fryer.. Don't I know you from somewhere?

FRYER: We... er... played St. Louis the same week last year.

KATIE (startled): Oh?... Oh!

FRYER: At different theatres.

KATIE (relieved): Oh... Nice to see you again

MILLER: Miss Adams-I know you've only just got here-hut do you think it'd be rushing you too much after your journey if-er-?

KATIE: You mean-you'd like me to get to work-

MILLER: If you knew how long we've been waiting to see you up there on the stage-

KATIE: That's what scares me-wondering if I'm going to come up to expectations-

MILLER: You'll be a riot!... Now if you'd care to see your room? Had it specially decorated!... Susan! Show Miss Adams to her room... (afterthought.) Susan's my niece.

(KATIE and SUSAN smile shyly at each other in acknowledgement of the introduction. By now, CALAMITY has relieved RATTLESNAKE of KATIE'S luggage and has come downstage with it. BILL notices, and moves swiftly over to her.) -

BILL: I'll take Miss Adams' bags. (He takes them from CALAMITY.)

DANNY (offering his arm to KATIE): Allow me, Miss Adams...

SUSAN: This way, Miss Adams..

(SUSAN exits, leading the way. KATIE, clinging to DANNY's arm, allows him to escort her off. BILL follows them with the luggage, and FRYER, puzzled and thoughtful, wanders off behind him. CALAMITY, chagrined, stands gazing after them. MILLER, with a yell of delight, swings her round and give her a hug.)

MILLER: Calam-you did it! I could shoot myself for happiness!

(He dashes off after the others.)

CALAMITY: Maybe I should shoot m'self for bringin' 'er.

JOE: Nobody coulda done it but you, Calam!

PROSPECTOR: Bet y'could bring back Sittin' Bull!

CROWD (Ad-libs, as they gather round her): Did you see 'er on the stage, Calam? How was the show? What's it like in Chicagy, Calam? (Etc.)

JOE: Tell us about the Big City!

(CALAMITY'S spirits soar at their appreciation, and she beams round at the CROWD.)

CALAMITY: Folks!... Chicagy is the biggest noise in Illinoise!

No. 12 "WINDY CITY"

(CALAMITY and CHORUS)

CALAMITY: Just blew in from the Windy City
The Windy City is mighty pretty,
But they ain't got what we got,
No, sirree!

They got shacks up to seven storeys
They never see any morning glories,
But a step from our doorway
We got 'em for free!

They got those
Minstrel shows-
Pretty ladies in their big chapeaux-
Private lawns,
Public Parks;
For the sake of civic virtue,
They've got fountains there to squirt you

Just blew in from the Windy City
The Windy City is mighty pretty,
But they ain't got what we got•
I'm tellin' ya, boys!

We've got more life in Deadwood City
Than in all of Illinois!

CHORUS: Just blew in from the Windy City
The Windy City is mighty pretty,
But they ain't got what we got,
No, sirree,

They got shacks up to seven storeys
They never see any morning glories,
But a step from our doorway,
We got 'em for free!

MEN: They got those
Minstrel shows-

GIRLS: Pretty ladies in their big chapeaux-

MEN: Private lawns,
Public Parks;

CHORUS: Ah... Ah...

CALAMITY: For the sake of civic virtue,
They've got fountains there to squirt you!

CHORUS: Just blew in from the Windy City
The Windy City is mighty pretty,
But they ain't got what we got,
I'm tellin' ya, boys!
We've got more life in Deadwood City
Than in all of Illinois!

(NOTE: If the DANCE is not required, leave out CALAMITY's next four lines and the 32 bars of DANCE Music and the 2-bar VAMP and cut to FIGURE 11 in the Vocal Score.)

CALAMITY: On the street was a dancin' feller
All dressed up in a suit of yeller,
And the dance he did there
Went something like this...

(DANCE-soft-shoe style. OPTIONAL)

CHORUS: Windy City... Windy City...

CALAMITY: Should a-seen me a-winder-shoppin'-
A-winder-shoppin' with eyes a-poppin'
At the sights you see there--

CALAMITY: Yes, sirree!

CHORUS: Yes, sirree!

CHORUS: Winder shoppin'... Elevator..

CALAMITY: Press a bell and a moment later
Up you go in an elevator
Just as fast as a pole cat

CHORUS: (Whistle)

CALAMITY: A-climbin' a tree!

CHORUS: Look at 'er go!

CALAMITY: I heard claim—

CHORUS: Yeah?

CALAMITY: Hundreds came ·

CHORUS: When?

CALAMITY: To a thing they call a baseball game!

CHORUS: No!

CALAMITY: Seegar stores,
Revolving doors--

CHORUS: Ah....Ah....

CALAMITY: They got new inventions commin'
'Stead of outdoor... indoor plumbin'!

CHORUS: Windy City... Windy City.

CALAMITY: Just blew in from the Windy City
The Windy City is mighty pretty,
But they ain't got what we got:-

ALL: I'm tellin' ya, boys!
I ain't a-swappin' half of Deadwood
For the whole of Illinois!
(shout) YEOW!

SCENE 3.2

(As the song ends the CROWD breaks up, and the MEN get drinks at the bar. FRYER re-enters, and approaches CALAMITY worriedly.)

FRYER: Calamity, where exactly did you find this-Adelaide Adams?

CALAMITY: What're Y'talking about? In Chicagy, o'course, where I went to git her.

FRYER: But where in Chicago? I've got to know.

CALAMITY: Like I told yuh-in the theatre. She just got through with the show.

FRYER: Did you actually see her do her act-on the stage?

CALAMITY: Couldn't get in. The place was just bustin' at the seams

FRYER: Then how did you meet her?

CALAMITY: Went round the back-pushed m' way through a hunch of fancy-dressed galoots-found her dressing-room.

FRYER: How?

CALAMITY: What's got into yuh? I ain't no scholar, but I can read "Miss Adelaide Adams" on a dressing-room door!

FRYER: And this girl was in there?

CALAMITY: 'Course she was-where else'd she be when she'd done her act?

FRYER: Was she in stage clothes?

CALAMITY: By the time I got there she'd just changed out of e'm. Say, what's eatin' you?

(MILLER re-enters, excitedly)

FRYER: Calamity... There's... there's something I've just got to tell you...

(Before he can say any more, MILLER interrupts him.)

MILLER: Mister Fryer-come and give a hand backstage! Get a wiggle on-Miss Adams is ready! (Makes to exit.)

FRYER: Wait- Mister Miller-

MILLER (turning back to him): And listen: nothing must go wrong-Tonight's no ordinary night! It's my night-I mean Adelaide Adams' night! (Glares round at the CROWD.) I should've got extra chairs from the undertaker-

FRYER (sudden panic): The undertaker!... (grabs at MILLER.) Mister Miller. You've got to know! I've got to tell you! That girl... (As he sees MILLER staring at him in astonishment, he finds he can't do it, and drops his hands.) Oh, never mind... (Helplessly, as if to himself.) They'll tear the place apart... We'll be ridden out of town on a rail scalped (He grabs MILLER again.) Look, Mister Miller... that Adelaide Adams....She's.... I mean she isn't.... (drops his hands again helplessly.)

MILLER (to CALAMITY): What's the matter with him?

CALAMITY: Don't ask me.

FRYER: What's the use? If she isn't, she got to be, because if she isn't, we'll all be .. (He pats MILLER'S hand, sympathetically.) I'll have two fast horses waitin' at the back door-

MILLER (bewildered): What for? I ain't going nowhere!

FRYER (mournfully): Not standin' up, you ain't... Oh, why'd I never learn to handle a gun? (Exit.)

(MILLER stares after him, and gives up.)

MILLER: Actors are crazy people... (Exit.)

(During the foregoing dialogue, BILL and DANNY have re-entered, and moved together to the bar. They are discussing something with obvious appreciation, and we guess it is the charm of "Adelaide Adams". So does CALAMITY, as she sees them. She turns to RATTLESNAKE, who has approached in time to hear MILLER'S last line.)

CALAMITY: They're not the only ones... Look at them two simperin' fools...(indicates BILL and DANNY.)

RATTLESNAKE: She's sure knocked every man in this town sideways, ain't she?

CALAMITY: Never thought Danny would turn himself inside out fer an actress

RATTLESNAKE: Y' gotta admit she's real elegant-

(During the above, the Background Chatter has gradually increased in volume, and now the MEN start to chant "We want Adelaide! We want Adelaide!" and they group themselves facing the "stage" in readiness for the show. MILLER, mopping his brow, appears hastily on the "stage".)

MILLER: Ladies and gentlemen—(Cheers and applause from the CROWD, with some shouts of "Bring on Adelaide!", "We want Adelaide!", etc., from various MEN) Your attention, Please! The great moment has finally arrived! (More cheers and shouts.) Quiet!... There are no words to describe the charm of the actress you're about to meet-no melody as sweet as the voice you are about to hear—(More cheers and shouts of "Bring her on!", etc.) I give you that scintillating toast of two continents, the lady whose very presence here is a delightful miracle-the one and only... Adelaide Adams!

(He gestures to usher on KATIE as he leaves the stage.)

No. 13 "KEEP IT UNDER YOUR HAT"

(KATIE)

(During the fanfare-intro, KATIE appears on the stage-to wild applause and cheers from the audience. She is wearing the Adelaide Adams stage-dress which she fancied in the dressing-room scene. She is very nervous and unsure of herself, and her brave effort at a fetching smile is not altogether successful. The applause and cheering die down during the last long-held chord of the fanfare-intro, fading into a somewhat puzzled silence as she begins to do a few small steps to the beat of the rhythmic intro which now starts. Her self-consciousness makes her dance-movements seem a little naive and tentative; the eager smiles with which the audience welcomed her appearance are replaced, now, by baffled stares. Fear has constricted KATIE'S throat, and although she is obviously trying very hard to "get over ", her voice is thin and wavering as she starts to sing.)

KATIE: Well, now if you've got a cutie
Who's a real sweet patootie,
Better keep it under your hat;
Just remember curiosity in fables of old
Killed the curious cat...

(The audience starts to murmur-disappointed, dismayed, incredulous. As KATIE, in a growing panic, struggles gallantly to complete the chorus of the song, the reaction of the crowd gradually develops into open resentment.)

Supposin' you love a laddie
Who's a real sugar daddy,
Better take in the welcoming mat;
Remember there's a dozen dolls for ev'ry Dan
You're not the only sweet pea in the can;
So if you wanna know the way to keep your man,
Keep it under your hat, Hattie,
Keep it under your hat, Hattie,
Keep it under your hat!

SCENE 3.3

(As the song peters out, a number of shouts from various MEN can be heard above the hubbub.)

JOE: That how you sing in Chicago?

MEN: Where's y'r voice? You supposed to be a star?

PROSPECTOR: 'Re you Adelaide Adams?

(MILLER, in a state, appears on the stage.)

MILLER: Now listen, men, please-

(An outburst of booing stops him as KATIE, frightened, makes to run off the stage; FRYER and SUSAN appear on the corner and hold her protectively. Suddenly CALAMITY'S voice rings out, and the booing stops.)

CALAMITY: Quiet!... Listen, Adelaide, why don't you sing out-like you do in Chicago?

KATIE (fighting back tears): I can't... I can't.

CALAMITY: Why not?

KATIE: Because I'm not Adelaide Adams!

(There is a gasp from the CROWD, and then a dumbfounded silence, as everybody turns and stares at CALAMITY.)

CALAMITY: You're not? (Realises CROWD is staring at her, and tries to laugh it off.) Aw, she's jokin' 'Course she's Adelaide Adams! (Towards KATIE, uncertainly.) Say, Adelaide, you shouldn't oughta joke like that. These galoots ain't got much sense o' humour...

KATIE: It's not a joke... I wish it were... (To CROWD, as they look back to her.) Please don't be angry with me-I know I shouldn't have done it-

MILLER (distracted): Let's get this straight... You say you're not Adelaide Adams...?

KATIE: No-I'm sorry-I'm not-

MILLER: Then who in tarnation are you?

KATIE (miserably): Katie Brown!

CROWD (echoing her with angry incredulity.): Katie Brown...??

(As a hubbub of angry resentment breaks out.)

BILL: Another fake!

DANNY: Double-crossed again!

PROSPECTOR: Bit twicet by the same snakes!

(During the above, CALAMITY has leapt up on to the "stage" to confront KATIE, pushing MILLER aside.)

CALAMITY: How come you're Katie Brown? You were Adelaide Adams in Chicagy in her dressin' room-

KATIE: I was her maid-she gave me this costume-she was going to Europe-and I wanted so badly to be on the stage-

(The booing and shouting becomes tumultuous. KATIE shrinks back to the protection of FRYER and SUSAN. CALAMITY, in a state of confusion, turns to the angry CROWD. A number of MEN are shaking their fists at her.)

PROSPECTOR: Played us for suckers agin!

VOICES: You framed it! Adelaide's maid-!

BILL: You lied to us, Calam - Oughta be run outa town-

CALAMITY (suddenly fierce and angry): Quiet!... (She draws gun and shoots into the air, producing a sudden surprised silence.) Now listen t' me... I didn't know... I'm as surprised as you are...

BILL: That true, Calam?... or just some more o' your fantasticalin'?

CALAMITY (vehemently): It's true, Bill-s'help me! I tell ya, honest, I just cain't understand-

KATIE (coming forward to edge of stage): Please... please don't blame Calamity! It's true she didn't know... She didn't... I fooled her, just as I tried to fool you. It's all my fault-I thought I could make you like me- ·

(The booing and yelling drown her out. There is an ominous surge forward towards the "stage", and some tables are knocked over. A number of MEN are on the point of climbing on to the "stage" -in spite of MILLER'S and FRYER'S frantic pleadings for order. CALAMITY again fires her gun into the air, stopping everybody dead. For a moment she reigns over a sullen silence. Then.)

CALAMITY: Thar, now... that's better. Now ain't yuh ashamed of y'rself, treatin' a lady this way? All right, so she ain't Adelaide Adams... She made out she was 'cause she wanted a chance t'be an actress, an' she thought mebbe we'd give 'er that chance. 'What's wrong with that? W're all here on the same ticket, ain't we?

PROSPECTOR: Ain't the same thing. We ain't makin' a sucker out of no one.

CALAMITY: But all o' you hollerin' hyenas came here t' Deadwood lookin' fer something y' couldn't find anywhere else, did'nt yuh? Y're all after y'r pot of gold-and Katie Brown here ain't no different! (The MEN are cowed and quiet now.) Wa-al, what d'ya say? D'ya wanna go on grouchin' about an ole cigareet pitcher... or are y'gonna give this real... live... (brings KATIE to her side)... an' I might say right purty young lady the chance t' prove she belongs here? It's up t' you.

PROSPECTOR: As long as she's up there, let 'er sing.

MEN (Ad-libs): Okay-give 'er a chance! What've we got to lose? _ She looks all right-let's see what she can do! Let 'er sing!

PROSPECTOR: Go on, Katie-sing!

(The shouts build up to a general cote of confidence. Hopefully, MILLER, FRYER and SUSAN clear quickly off the "stage".)

CALAMITY (grinning at the crowd): That's all we wanna hear! (To KATIE.) Let 'er rip, Katie Brown! (Slaps KATIE on the back.) Give 'em all yuh got-and to hell with Adelaide Adams! Do it your own way!

(Heartened by CALAMITY'S friendly 'grin, and an encouraging cheer from the CROWD, KATIE is smiling cheerfully and naturally now; her relief that the imposture is over brings with it a determination to prove herself a performer in her own right.)

KATIE: My own way? Okay-I will!

No. 14 "KEEP IT UNDER YOUR HAT"

(Reprise.)

(KATIE and CHORUS.)

(From the instant she does a slick and stylish movement to the opening 'rhythm, we realise that this is a different KATIE; she puts the number over, note, with nerve and confidence, displaying an attractive stage-personality that is all her own. The CROWD gapes delightedly and as the refrain proceeds, the reaction is one of growing approval and excitement; at the end of it, everybody joins in a repeat of the number out of sheer enthusiasm.)

KATIE: Well, now if you've got a cutie
Who's a real sweet patootie,
Better keep it under your hat;
Just remember curiosity in fables of old
Killed the curious cat...

Supposin' you love a laddie
Who's a real sugar daddy,
Better take in the welcoming mat;
Remember there's a dozen dolls for ev'ry Dan•
You're not the only sweet pea in the can;
So if you wanna know the way to keep your man,
Keep it under your hat, Hattie,
Keep it under your hat, Hattie,
Keep it under your hat!

KATIE Well, now if you've got a cutie
 CHORUS: Who's a real sweet patootie,
 Better keep it under your hat;
 Just remember curiosity in fables of old
 Killed the curious cat...

Supposin' you love a laddie
 Who's a real sugar daddy,
 Better take in the welcoming mat;
 Remember there's a dozen dolls for ev'ry Dan
 You're not the only sweet pea in the can;
 So if you wanna know the way to keep your man,
 Keep it under your hat, Hattie,
 Keep it under your hat, Hattie,
 Keep it under your hat, hat, hat, hat, hat!

CHORUS: Keep it under your hat!

(During the number, CALAMITY has been leaning up against the corner of the "stage"-• watching delightedly. When KATIE finishes taking her bow and blowing kisses to her deliriously happy AUDIENCE, she runs over to CALAMITY to give her a big hug-and then runs off. CALAMITY, grinning triumphantly, saunters to the centre of the "stage".)

SCENE 3.4

CALAMITY: Great-ain't she? {MEN whistle and hoot.} Like I told yuh... Dead• wood don't need no imported actress... We roll our own! Say, I coulda got that Adelaide Adams easy as skinnin' a possum... Why, she trailed me all over Chicagy, beggin' me to take 'er! Beggin', I tell yuh-

BILL: That's right, Calam-tell us! Tell us how it wasn't!

CALAMITY: You keep outa this, Bill Hickock!... Fellers, I could see that Adelaide Adams warnt what wuz wanted in Deadwood-so, I jest wouldn't have 'er! I knew that the only girl for the Golden Garter was-Katie Brown!

(Big laugh from EVERYBODY.)

No. 15 FINALE ACT ONE: "CARELESS WITH THE TRUTH"
 (Reprise.)

(ENSEMBLE and CHORUS.)

FULL COMPANY (except CALAMITY):

Tell us another one,
 Tell us another one,
 Oh, my aching tooth!
 She's not exactly lyin',
 But she's careless with the truth!

Careless! careless!
Careless with the truth!
She's not exactly lyin'
But she's careless, careless,
Careless, careless,
With the truth!

(During the Finale, BILL and DANNY lift CALAMITY down from the "stage" and bring her down centre. JOE hands a glass of "sas'perilly" with which she busies herself while the CROWD sings around her. MILLER enters with KATIE on his arm, and proudly escorts her to the bar-followed by FRYER with SUSAN on his arm. As the CHORUS ends, they raise glasses to one another, and CALAMITY cheerfully drains her "sas'perilly ".)

THE CURTAIN FALLS.

END OF ACT ONE

(No. 16: ENTR'ACTE.)

(SEGUE:)

No.17 OPENING ACT TWO

ACT TWO SCENE 1

CALAMITY'S CABIN.

The interior of a cabin of rough-hewn logs with home-made table, chair, stool, two bunks set apart (see note on scenery plan), a lamp, an ancient bear-rug, a shotgun hanging on the wall, shelves with cooking utensils, etc., a fireplace, and bucket for wood at the side of it.

The CURTAIN RISES at the 21st bar of the opening music. The impression conveyed by the scene should be that the occupants - CALAMITY and KATIE - who are discovered looking very attractive in pretty dresses - have just finished spring-cleaning it and brightening it up with fresh paint, new curtains and frills, flowers, etc.

The fact that CALAMITY is in feminine attire doesn't mean that as yet she stands or walks any less like a cowboy. She is "supervising", while KATIE, on her knees, is hammering the last tack into the new covering on the seat of the stool. Her six final hammer-knocks coincide with the six staccato fortissimo chords played by the orchestra (bars 25-28). As the music breaks off, KATIE speaks.

KATIE: Well, I guess that does it-

(As the Music RE-STARTS, KATIE rises. CALAMITY gazes round appreciatively, As Music PAUSES again.)

CALAMITY: Katie: this cabin o' mine was an ole rats' nest-till you got workin' on it! Now it's real purty-e-it sure is.

(As Music RE-STARTS, KATIE, smiling, puts the stool in its place. During the third pause in the music, she answers.)

KATIE: Nothing to it-just a can of paint, a few frills, and a woman's touch!

(Music RE-STARTS, and leads the two girls into their duet.)

No. 17 (continued). "A WOMAN'S TOUCH"

(CALAMITY and KATIE)

KATIE: A woman's touch!

CALAMITY: A woman's touch!

KATIE: The magic of Aladdin couldn't do as much!
She's a wizard-she's a champ--

CALAMITY: -And she doesn't need a lamp!

KATIE: A woman's touch
Can weave a spell-
The kind of hocus-pocus that she does so well;

CALAMITY: With the magic of a broom,
She can mesmerize a room!

KATIE: With a whisk-whisk here,
And a whisk-whisk-there,
And a dustpan for -the cinders-

CALAMITY: With a rub-rub here,
And a rub-rub there
She can polish up the winders!
Then presto, change-o, suddenly
The sun comes peeping through-

KATIE: And what does Mister Sunshine say to you?

CALAMITY: How-di-do! "

KATIE: It makes you blink
To stop and think
A woman and a whisk-broom can accomplish so darn much-

BOTH: So never underestimate a woman's touch!

CALAMITY: A woman's touch
Can quickly fill
The empty flower-boxes on a winder-sill-

KATIE: One smile from her, and "zoom! "
Little buds begin to bloom!
A touch of paint---

CALAMITY: A magic nail-

BOTH: Can turn a kitchen chair into a Chippendale-

CALAMITY: Even make a lamp appear
Like a crystal chandelier!

KATIE: With a tack-tack here,
And a tack-tack there,
And a hand around a hammer,
With a mop-mop here,
And a mop-mop there,
You can give a cabin glimmer!

(DANCE.)

(At the pause in the music (4th bar before Fig. 12) CALAMITY notices something in KATIE's bag, which is lying open on the table.)

CALAMITY (spoken): Hey-what's this?

(As Music re-starts, she takes a small framed photograph out of the bag, and looks at it delightedly. She speaks as music pauses again at the bar before Fig. 12.)

CALAMITY: Why-it's a pitcher of you!

(Music again-and KATIE takes the photograph and glances at it. She speaks as music pauses again at 3rd bar after Fig. 12.)

KATIE: Not a very good one... (hopefully)... is it?

(Music again as CALAMITY grins at KATIE, takes the photograph and places it on the shelf over the fireplace.)

CALAMITY (singing): With a photograph

KATIE (surprised): On the mantelpiece?

CALAMITY: -Any room looks kinda homey!

KATIE (touched): You're a real good pal-

CALAMITY: You're a real nice gal-

KATIE: Better wait until you know me!

CALAMITY: Since you bin diggin' in with me,
This cabin that I knew.
Has become an elegant mansion made for two -

(From the shelf, KATIE lifts doom a tray of goodies, appraises them, and re-replaces them.)

KATIE: The pies and cakes
A woman bakes
Can make a feller tell her
That he loves her very much-

BOTH: So never underestimate a woman's touch
No, never underestimate a woman's touch!

SCENE 1.1

CALAMITY (sudden thought): Goshamighty-I forgot! (KATIE looks at her enquiringly.)
Poor ole Herb Potter's up there alone in his cabin with tick fever. He needs some doin' fer.
(She starts removing her shoes.)

KATIE: You're not going without shoes?

CALAMITY (crossing to door): Cain't wear 'em crossin' the crick. Be back soon. (Exit.)

KATIE: I've got to get a bucket of water-(Exit after CALAMITY.)

(OFF-STAGE. Approaching hoofbeats. BILL'S voice is heard shouting "Whoa!" and the hoofbeats, increasing in volume, slacken in speed and finally stop. A moment later BILL, dusting himself down with his hat, appears in the open doorway.)

BILL: Anybody home? (He steps inside the cabin. and re-acts to what he sees, he is obviously amazed to find the interior newly painted and frilled up.) Hey... Am I in the right cabin?

(He steps momentarily outside again, to give the exterior a quick once-over, as if he really believed he could have made a mistake.)

BILL (calling): Calam? Katie...? (He re-enters, and stands gazing around.) (To himself.) Well, I'll be.

(He moves around a little, inspecting various items, fingering the curtain material, examining the paint-work. Finally he comes to the mantel-shelf, re-acts to see the picture of KATIE, picks it up, and looks at it admiringly. Then he glances quickly round the room again, grins, and looks back at the picture appreciatively-in his mind giving KATIE the credit for the improvements to the cabin.)

BILL (softly, to himself): What a gal.

No. 18 "HIGHER THAN A HAWK"

(BILL)

BILL (singing): My heart is higher than a hawk
My love is deeper than a well-
I'm thinkin' in a little while
My love and I'll be doin' very well

Her picture givin' me the eye
Her perfume blowin' me a kiss
I wouldn't be at all surprised
If I were only dreaming all of this

And when I strut about like a Sunny Jim
Dressed in yeller and red,

(He replaces the picture, and starts to move about a little-head in the clouds.)

Folks will shout: " Take a look at him-
He's teched in the head! "

I said that I would never fall-
I laughed at others when they fell
And here I'm fallin'
Higher than a hawk,
And deeper than a well!

And when we're all rigged out
Like a birthday cake,
Eyes will pop ev'rywhere
Folks will shout:
"Don't you think they make
A wonderful pair? "

I said that I would never fall
But if you promise not to tell,
My love, my love is higher than a hawk
And deeper than a well...!
My love, my love is higher than a hawk
And deeper than a well...!

SCENE 1.2

(As the song ends, approaching hoofbeats are heard again-and this time it is DANNY'S voice we hear shouting "Whoa! ". BILL reacts with annoyance.)

BILL: Oh-dam it!-

(DANNY appears in the open doorway, dusting himself down with his hat, as BILL did. In his other hand he carries a posy of flowers. As he glances into the cabin, and sees BILL, he reacts with surprise. Embarrassed, he tries to hide the flowers in his hat, which he holds behind his back.)

BILL (grimly): Hello, Lootenant.

DANNY: Bill! (Stepping inside.) What are you doing here-?

(He is suddenly aware of the transformed appearance of the cabin, and looks about in astonishment. During this :)

BILL: Nothin'-yet. Seems there's nobody home.

DANNY: Say-what's happened here?

BILL: Looks as though Katie's been fixin' it up a little. Ain't you a long way from the fort?

DANNY: Why-er-the Colonel had some business for me to attend to up this way, so – er - I (places his hat on table, concealing the posy.)

BILL: So you figgered you'd drop by and see how the girls were makin' out.

DANNY: That's about it... (Pause.)... Quite a surprise--seeing you... Isn't there a poker game going?

BILL. There's always a poker game going... (Pause.)... With them Cheyennes on the warpath, folks'd feel a heap safer if you soldiers stayed on the job instead of gallivantin' aroun' so much... wastin' taxpayers' money.

DANNY: Nice of you to think of the taxpayers... after all the money you've cost them in funerals.

(KATIE staggers in carrying a pail of water.)

KATIE: Well!... Hello!...

(BILL and DANNY swing round, and both rush to relieve KATIE of the pail.)

BILL/DANNY: Here-let me- / I'll take that-

(DANNY proves the faster, takes the pail from KATIE, and smiles sweetly at BILL. As he moves to put it down out of the way.)

BILL (gazing at KATIE appreciatively): Right smart harness y're wearin', Katie...

DANNY: You just keep on getting prettier and- (He remembers the flowers, and takes them from under his hat-in a somewhat crushed condition.) Oh-here--

KATIE (taking the proffered posy): Oh, how nice! Calamity loves flowers-

BILL: The Lieutenant never calls without 'em-

DANNY: Wait-I brought them for... Where is Calamity?

KATIE: Up the hill-visiting a sick prospector.

BILL: That's Calam for ya! Gal just cain't resist a distress signal.

DANNY: Say-I wouldn't have dared bring those (indicates flowers) if I'd known- well- (glances swiftly round the cabin)-about all this-

BILL: You've done a great job, Katie. Hardly recognise the old bug-hatch

KATIE: We fixed it up a little-between us. (Moves over to fireplace.)

BILL: Sure did... (Another try.) Won't they be need'in you back at the fort, Lootenant?

DANNY: I expect they'll manage for a while.

(While the two men eye one another, KATIE, contemplating the woodbox by the side of the fireplace, gets an idea. Glancing furtively over her shoulder at the two men, who are not looking at her, she "swiftly takes a cape from a nearby hook and drops it over the woodbox")

KATIE (in feigned dismay): Oh dear... (BILL and DANNY turn at her exclamation.) I'm right out of wood... I'll have to go out and chop some-

DANNY (quickly): I'll do it-

BILL (firmly): No-I'll do it. You got the water-bucket.

KATIE: Bill's right-it's only fair.

BILL: No trouble at all. (Sweetly to BILL.) Sorry to trouble you, Bill-(He grins at DANNY, and exits. KATIE smiles mischievously at DANNY, and he reacts.)

DANNY (softly-excitedly): Katie!... You fixed that!... So that you and I could be...!

(Quickly, he closes the door, and then moves to embrace KATIE-but she eludes him, demurely. He pursues her. The sound of BILL'S chopping wood can be heard off.)

KATIE: Very thoughtful of you and Mister Hickock to look in on us, Lootenant. But Deadwood's that kind of town, isn't it? Everyody's so friendly, and... well. I mean, after the fool I made of myself the other night... the way they forgave me, and were so nice to me...

DANNY (again attempting an embrace): Anyone could forgive you anything, Katie...

KATIE (pointedly removing his arm from her waist): There's one thing Calamity wouldn't...

DANNY: Now look, Katie... I don't ~now what sort of an idea you have about Calamity and me, but-

KATIE: It's not my idea-it's hers. She's in love with you.

DANNY: That's ridiculous! We're just-buddies.... You can't really believe

KATIE (squarely): Lootenant: I like Calamity. She's been very good to me. I would no more dream of coming between her and the man she loves, than-

DANNY: The man she loves!... Katie, I swear I've given her no reason whatever – I mean, she's got no right at all to think... (This time he resolutely takes her in his arms, and, momentarily, she submits.) It's you I love, Katie...

KATIE (unhappily): But... but.. it's no good... it wouldn't be fair...

DANNY: Do you love me, Katie?

KATIE: Oh, Danny... I... I.

(The sound of BILL'S boot on the door is heard.)

BILL (off): Open the door-I got both hands full-

(Hastily, DANNY kisses KATIE, releases her, and opens the door to BILL, who enters carrying a load of chopped wood, which he takes over to the wood-box.)

BILL: Here we are-reckon that'll hold y' for a while...

(He drops the wood by the fireplace, and lifts the cape out of the woodbox in order to refill it. He stares at the wood already in the box.)

KATIE (flustered): Well... what do you know... How stupid can you get? I'm sorry, Bill... The cape must have fallen over the...

DANNY (trying to rescue KATIE): Oh, by the way, Bill, I've been meaning to tell you: we've got a new Commander at the fort. Colonel Stark. Says he knows you.

BILL (looking from DANNY to KATIE and back to DANNY, with suspicion): Served under him in Virginia, during the war.

DANNY: They're having a Ball in his honour Saturday night... (looks at KATIE)... thought maybe you'd..

KATIE: Lots of people have been invited. Mister Fryer's taking Susan, and BILL: Matter of fact, I've been invited myself. Kinda hoped you'd go with me, Katie.

DANNY (coolly): She's going with me.

BILL (gentle-voiced, but potentially belligerent): It's customary t' let the lady choose for herself, Lootenant.

DANNY: She's going with me.

(The two men move slowly-almost imperceptibly-to confront one another, challengingly.)

KATIE (apprehensive): Couldn't the four of us go together?

DANNY: The four of us?

KATIE: Well... you, Bill, me... and Calamity...?

DANNY;

BILL. Calamity...!

KATIE: She's been invited, too... and if she doesn't go, I don't either... (To DANNY, mischievously.) She's been expecting you to ask her, Lootenant.

DANNY: Me? Why me?. I told you...

BILL: I reckon that's a right smart arrangement! Settles everything! (To Katie) Calamity goes with the Lootenant - (To DANNY) - and Katie goes with me!

DANNY: Over my dead body.

BILL (angrily): Listen, soldier: it might be that way, if you can't talk about Calam with a little more respect... She's a mighty fine girl.

DANNY: Girl!

BILL: Y'oughta be dang proud t' take 'er!

KATIE (with admiration): You would be, wouldn't you, Bill?

BILL: I certainly would!... (startled.) Me? Now wait-I ain't gonna be stampeded inta no fast shuffle here-

KATIE (crossly): Oh, I know what you're thinking-both of you! Calamity's fine on top of a stagecoach, or behind an ox-team... but she isn't lady enough to make a social appearance with either of you distinguished gentlemen!

DANNY: Well.. , she's not exactly.

BILL: Doesn't even dress female...

KATIE: The trouble with both you boys is that you haven't looked hard enough at Calamity! If you wait until she gets back, you'll get quite a surprise!

(She goes to the door, and looks out for CALAMITY. BILL moves over to the fireplace, and pulls two straws from a broom. Clutching them in his fist, with the two ends protruding, he returns to DANNY.)

BILL: Only one way t' settle this... (Thrusts his fist towards DANNY.) Draw a straw, Lootenant!... Long straw takes Katie... loser takes Calam... (Looking over to the door.) That okay by you, Katie?

(KATIE, having seen no sign of CALAMITY, is turning back into the room. She nods absently to BILL.)

BILL: Draw, Lootenant.

(Reluctantly, DANNY draws a straw and holds it up. Grimly, BILL shows the one left in his hand. DANNY'S straw is the longer one.)

DANNY (delighted): I won! I won! Yippee!... I'll have the prettiest girl at the Ball!

(He clutches KATIE and dances her around. BILL throws away his losing straw, disgustedly. KATIE disentangles herself from DANNY.)

KATIE: Lootenant!... I wouldn't bet on that, if I were you. When you see a certain other party-you might change your mind!

(Enter CALAMITY. She is soaked; covered with mud and weeds; hair matted; clothes clinging to her body: a "drowned rat".)

CALAMITY (as she enters): Went and fell in the dang-blasted crick!

KATIE (horrified): Calamity!

(BILL and DANNY are staring at CALAMITY blankly. As she realises they are present, she explodes with delight.)

CALAMITY: Goshamighty-look who's here! Say, what brought you two out t' this neck of the woods?

KATIE: They - they came to ask you-to go to the Ball-

CALAMITY (to KATIE): Both of 'em?... (to the MEN.) Waal, that's plumb flatterin'! Only... cain't go with both of yuh...

DANNY (brightly): It's all right... we... we drew straws.

CALAMITY (looking at him adoringly): Yuh did?... (hesitates) who won? (DANNY opens his mouth to answer-but BILL, fearing he may tell the truth, nips in before he can speak.)

BILL (forcing a smile): I did, Calam.

CALAMITY (momentarily disappointed): Oh... (She catches herself, and brightens.) Yuh did?... Waal, that's fine, Bill! Mighty fine! (Glancing wistfully at DANNY.) Don't know which of you I'd rather tag along with.

KATIE (sensing CALAMITY'S disappointment): Bill's a lucky man... Say, you're soaked you'll catch cold.... I've got a wrap in my trunk....

(KATIE exits, and, as DANNY'S eyes follow her, CALAMITY grabs him and draws him aside.)

CALAMITY: Danny... (over her shoulder) 'Scuse me, Bill (To DANNY.) Ask Katie to with you, Danny... I know y' wanted to take me, but waal, g'wan... ask her! Do it fer me, Danny... Will yuh? .. Please?... (DANNY looks at her, feels like a heel, and turns away.) Aw, c'mon, Danny... Katie's a real purty gal, an' I'd hate her to miss a plumb fancy affair like a Ball... Me, I'll probably bust m' corset• strings with pride at just being asked!... What dy'a say, Danny?... Will you take Katie?... fer me?

DANNY: Calamity... You're quite a lady.

(Impulsively, he kisses her on the forehead, looks at her for a moment, then turns and exits after KATIE. CALAMITY is held breathless. Slowly, she lifts her hand, and, with her fingertips, tenderly touches the spot on her forehead where DANNY kissed her. She gives a small sigh of contentment, and sways... Sensing what is going to happen, BILL moves swiftly to her, and catches her as she swoons. As he holds her in his arms:)

BLACK-OUT

END OF SCENE TABS

(ORCHESTRA starts.)

No. 19... "THE BLACK HILLS OF DAKOTA"

(First part: music for scene-change.)

ACT TWO SCENE 2.A TRAIL THROUGH A PASS IN THE BLACK HILLS (NIGHT).

This is a front-cloth, to be dropped in as quickly as possible when the TABS are drawn following the BLACK-OUT that ends the previous scene.

The cloth can depict trees with mountains behind them, but need only be "impressionistic" - for this is a NIGHT SCENE throughout, with only NIGHT-EFFECT LIGHTING. In view of this, a sky-cloth or a neutral backing would serve-and might even be preferred.

There are TWENTY BARS OF Music in which to effect the change; the TABS ARE OPEN EIGHT BARS AFTER FIGURE 1 in the score. The CHARACTERS are already entering and continue to do so, in procession, during the Four BARS of establishing rhythm music: They start to sing at FIGURE 2 in the score-continuing the processional movement, if necessary, until all the CHARACTERS are on stage. They are the citizens of Deadwood and GIRLS with MILITARY ESCORTS on their way to the Dance at the Fort; some of the MEN carry lanterns; all are in their party-clothes with overcoats or cloaks, as required. Among them are SUSAN, FRYER, MILLER, JOE, Doc, RATTLESNAKE.

No. 19 (continued). "THE BLACK HILLS OF DAKOTA" (CHORUS)

CHORUS: Take me back to the Black Hills,
 The Black Hills of Dakota,
 To the beautiful Indian country that I love!

 Lost my heart in the Black Hills,
 The Black Hills of Dakota,
 Where the pines are so high that they kiss
 The sky above!

 And when I get that lonesome feeling,
 And I'm miles away from home,
 I hear the voice of the mystic mountains
 Calling me back home...

 Take me back to the Black Hills,
 The Black Hills of Dakota,
 To the beautiful Indian country that I love!

CHORUS: Mm... Mm...

BASSES: Black Hills... Black Hills...
Though I've wandered far away,
Black Hills... Black Hills...
I'll come back to you some day!

MEN: Where the deer and the buffalo roam,
And the redwing feathers her nest,
That's the place that I'll call my home
The land I love the best.

CHORUS: Take me back... Take me back.. ·
Take me back to the Black Hills,
The Black Hills of Dakota-
Take me back... Take me back...
To the beautiful Indian country that I love•
(That I love...)

Lost my heart... Lost my heart.. ·
Lost my heart in the Black Hills,
The Black Hills of Dakota,
Where the pines are so high
That they kiss the sky above!

And when I get that lonesome feeling,
And I'm miles away from home,
I hear the voice of the mystic mountains
Calling me back home...

Take me back to the Black Hills,
Take me back..
The Black Hills of Dakota,
To the beautiful Indian country that I love!

So take me,
Take me back to the Black Hills,
The Black Hills of Dakota,
To the beautiful Indian country that I love!
So take me,
Take me back to the Black Hills,
The Black Hills of Dakota,
To the beautiful Indian country that I love!
Black Hills I love... love... love!

(After applause, SEGUE:)

No. 19a. "THE BLACK HILLS OF DAKOTA"

(Reprise)

(CHORUS, and later CALAMITY, KATIE, BILL and DANNY. After this, the Music CONTINUES for the start of the next scene, and becomes OPENING SCENE 3. As the CHORUS start to sing the REPRISE, they proceed on their way to the Fort, their voices dying away as they move out of sight.)

CHORUS: So take me,
 Take me back to the Black Hills,
 The Black Hills of Dakota,
 To the beautiful Indian country that I love!
 Because I
 Lost my heart in the Black Hills,
 The Black Hills of Dakota,
 Where the pines are so high
 That they kiss the sky above

(By now, (Fig. 2 in the score) all the GUESTS are off, and as the Music CONTINUES, CALAMITY enters with BILL, followed by KATIE with DANNY.

CALAMITY is bundled up in an oversized military overcoat very old and shabby. Her head is wrapped in a scarf or shawl tied under her chin. BILL carries a Lantern. KATIE wears a smart coat over her evening dress. DANNY wears his uniform overcoat.)

(Dialogue over music.)

BILL: Didja hafta wear that ol' coat?

CALAMITY: It wuz Custer's, Bill. Gave it t'me hiself. What's good enough fer Custer oughta be good enough for Fort Scully.

BILL: This ain't no scouting expedition against Sittin' Bull! We're going to a Ball!

CALAMITY: I know... An' we sure got a night fer it, ain't we, Bill? Don't it thrill yuh, jest to look at them hills? No wonder them Injuns fight so fierce-t'hang onto this country!...

(CALAMITY, KATIE, BILL and DANNY now sing the rest of the Refrain as they proceed on their way to the Fort.)

CALAMITY: Take me back to the Black Hills,

BILL:

KATIE:

DANNY: Take me back...

ENSEMBLE: The Black Hills of Dakota,
 To the beautiful Indian country that I love!

(The VOICES OF THE CHORUS are now heard joining in. They are, of course, the voices of the GUESTS who have just made their exits from the scene. The majority of them are by now ready in position behind the front-cloth, ready to be revealed, when the next scene opens, as having just arrived at Fort Scully. The remaining GUESTS who are waiting off-stage (in readiness to make their entrances in the opening moments of the next scene and so complete the arrival of the GUESTS) can also join in.)

CHORUS: ... That I love I
Ah!... Ah!
Ah!... Ah!
... Country that I love!

ENSEMBLE: Take me back to the Black Hills,
The Black Hills of Dakota,
To the beautiful Indian country that I love!

END OF SCENE

(As the LIGHTS FADE, and the PRINCIPALS move off out of sight, and the VOICES die away, there is a CRESCENDO in the ORCHESTRA, and they strike 11p a loud and lively POLKA (which is a continuation of music of 19a-Fig. 6 in the score.) After 2 bars, the CLOTH is taken away, and it is LIGHTS UP on the next scene.)

ACT TWO SCENE 3

FORT SCULLY.

This is the RECEPTION Roost of the Fort, decorated with flags and buntings for the occasion of the Ball. There is an entrance from the outside, and doors leading into the ballroom.

As the scene opens, the GUESTS from the previous scenes are arriving and being welcomed by the COLONEL-who is attended by a number of OFFICERS. The COLONEL shakes hands with the MEN GUESTS and bows to the LADIES, then gestures them to a SOLDIER who takes their outdoor clothes and hands them to ANOTHER SOLDIER who takes them off-stage and returns for more. This action is covered by the 10 bars of loud and lively POLKA (which is still a continuation of music 19a) before the music quietens down at Fig. 8 in the score, and out of the general hubbub of ad-libs we hear the COLONEL speaking.)

COLONEL: Nice to see you all-very good of you to come! I hope you all have a most enjoyable evening!

(The GUESTS respond to this with ad-libs (" We will! " "Thanks, Colonel!" "Nice to be here! ", etc.) as they continue the action of handing over their outdoor clothes. KATIE and DANNY enter, followed by CALAMITY and BILL. They are dressed, of course, as in the previous scene. DANNY escorts KATIE straight over to the COLONEL.)

DANNY: Colonel-may I present Miss Katie Brown?

COLONEL: You're very welcome, Miss Brown! I've got a hunch you're gonna cause quite a stir here at Fort Scully-

(KATIE smiles her acknowledgements, and DANNY takes her coat. During this, BILL has brought CALAMITY downstage. He seems quite content to skip the formalities-embarrassed, as he is, by CALAMITY'S appearance, which has not escaped the notice of some of the OFFICERS.)

BILL (aside to CALAMITY, as he takes her coat): You're causin' quite a stir yourself, Calam - you and General Custer. ·

(CALAMITY takes off her scarf and overcoat, and BILL, looking over at the OFFICERS in some embarrassment, takes them from her hands them to a SOLDIER. CALAMITY is now seen to be wearing a beautiful evening gown; her hair-style and make-up are most becoming; she is suddenly revealed as a dazzling debutante. Everybody stares at her in startled disbelief. BILL, having disposed of the scarf and coat, glances at her-and does a tremendous "take".)

(The OFFICERS who have been hovering round KATIE, and putting their initials on her dance-card, are now heard ad-libbing: "Can that be Calamity?"... "It is Calamity!" "She's beautiful!"... "What a gal!", etc. KATIE enjoys this sudden transference of attention from herself to CALAMITY-and slyly watches a dazed expression come into DANNY'S face as he, too, takes in the transformation. DANNY and BILL stand by, staring blankly, as the MEN suddenly converge on CALAMITY, and swarm round her. An OFFICER quickly scribbles his initials on a dance-card and hands it to her.)

OFFICER [MALCOLM]: Your dance-card, Miss Calamity – I've put myself down for the first waltz –

(Another OFFICER promptly seizes the card, and scribbles on it – and the card is then grabbed from him and passed rapidly from hand to hand as the MEN ad-lib: "May I have a dance?" ... "Me, too?"... "Save one for me!", "May I have the pleasure?", "How about me?", etc. During this.)

CALAMITY: Hey! ... Steady on, now, fellers! ... Cain't take one more partners than there are dances! ... Landsakes!.. I'm gonna be all booked up before I've had a chance t'get m'bearings --!

(FRYER and MILLER have come downstage – and are looking on incredulously.)

FRYER: Looks like Calamity's been holding out on us –

MILLER: I don't believe it and I'm looking at it...

CALAMITY (to her admirers): How come this sudden popularity? Las' month, at that shindig down at Hogan's stable, I got such a cold reception I spent most o' the night wrapped in a hoss-blanket, chattin' with the mules! ...

(By this time she has grabbed back her filled-up dance-card, and is staring at it in delighted amazement. The CROWD, chattering excitedly, now drifts off into the DANCE-ROOM – while BILL, DANNY and KATIE approach CALAMITY.)

BILL (admiring her): It's what I always been tellin' yuh ... yuh look better in a dress.

CALAMITY (pleased): That so? ... (To DANNY, wistfully.) Do I, Danny?

DANNY: You're an absolute vision ...

CALAMITY: Then ... then how come you haven't asked me for a dance ...?

KATIE: He didn't get much chance, the way those wolves set on you ---

CALAMITY (To DANNY): I'll ditch any one of 'em for yuh – two if yuh like ---

BILL: After you've ditched the guy who got the first waltz – that's mine! And I need a drink before we take the floor! C'mon, Calam...

(And he whisks CALAMITY off before DANNY can reply to her. He and KATIE are left alone on the stage.)

KATIE (gently): Well, Danny ... I did try to warn you what you were missing, didn't I?... If you ... feel like taking back anything you've said to me...

DANNY (squarely): I don't ... Not a thing... Thanks to you, Calamity looks great – and I admit I didn't know she could ... But so what? ... It doesn't make any difference to me ... Why should it? ... You're the girl I'm in love with...

KATIE: Oh, Danny – I don't know ---

(Gently, he draws her into his arms.)

DANNY (softly): When are you going to quit worrying?

KATIE: I- I can't help it-

DANNY: Give me a kiss –

KATIE (resisting only half heartedly): We ought to go in-the others might•

(He kisses her.)

DANNY: Oh, Katie... Katie darling...

KATIE: How am I going to explain... to Calamity?

(He caresses her, and whispers.)

DANNY: Calamity can be your bridesmaid...

No. 20. "LOVE YOU DEARLY"

(KATIE & DANNY)

DANNY: Love you dearly,
More than just sincerely,
More than I could ever hope to say;

KATIE: Love you dearly,
Words can't express it clearly,
You seem to take my very breath away.

DANNY: Looks like I like your looks,
Like the way you're fashioned;
If I sound impassioned, darling, May I say I

BOTH: Love you dearly,
More than just sincerely,

DANNY: More than there are rosebuds in a spring bouquet!

BOTH: Need I say I need you more and more each day?

(DIALOGUE under continuing music.)

KATIE: Are you... sure, Danny?

DANNY: Couldn't be more sure, Katie Ever since you got here--ever since that first moment I saw you, I've known you're the only one for me.

(They SING again.)

BOTH: Love you dearly,
More than just sincerely,

DANNY: More than there are rosebuds in a spring bouquet!

BOTH: Need I say I need you more and more each day?

(As the song ends, DANNY draws KATIE into his arms, and they are in a fervent kiss as CALAMITY re-enters-and re-acts with sudden, shocked fury at what she sees. She stands and glares.)

CALAMITY (erupting): Why, you mis'erable-two-timin'-claim-jumper!!

(As the lovers separate in surprise, CALAMITY, suddenly galvanised into action, tears past them and disappears off-in the direction in which the COATS were taken off earlier in the scene. BILL re-enters and looks about. He is surprised not to see CALAMITY.)

BILL: What happened to Calam-?

DANNY: She just exploded like a stick of dynamite-

BILL: Exploded?

DANNY (defiantly): I was kissing Katie.

(BILL'S face sets grimly.)

BILL: Where'd she go?

DANNY (indicating): In there.

(As he speaks, and as BILL makes a move in the direction indicated, CALAMITY re-appears with a gun in her hand-which she levels at KATIE. Her eyes are blazing.)

CALAMITY: Yeh - to get this-

(BILL re-acts with alarm-and anger.)

BILL: Calam!... You gone loco?

CALAMITY: Stay outa this, Bill Hickock!

BILL: Yuh crazy-! (Sudden move towards her). Gimme that gun-

CALAMITY (fiercely): I said stay clear! (BILL halts. CALAMITY glares at KATIE and keeps the gun levelled at her as she speaks with cold fury.) Listen t' me, Katie Brown... I'm leavin'... Yuh'll find all that belongs to yuh pitched outa my cabin... When the next stage pulls outa Deadwood, be on it!

KATIE (to DANNY): Bridesmaid, eh?... (Turns to go.)

(DANNY pauses only long enough to throw a withering glance at CALAMITY, and then escorts KATIE into the DANCE-ROOM. CALAMITY, with levelled gun, stands like a statue. BILL moves swiftly to her, and impatiently snatches the gun from her hand. Snapping on the safety-catch, he sticks the gun in his belt.)

BILL: You sure gone loco... That was a right smart thing to do. (CALAMITY suddenly erupts again.)

CALAMITY: I tell yuh Deadwood ain't big enough-not fer me and that frilled-up, flirtin', man-rustling petticoat, it ain't - s'help me!

(She suddenly starts to peel off her long white gloves.) ·

CALAMITY: I brung 'er here! Me! All the way from Chicagy... t'make love to Danny! Goshamighty, was I dumb...

(She begins to struggle out of the gown she is wearing - fuming as she undresses.)

Even took 'er into m' cabin-because I thought she needed protection! (Pulls dress over her head.)

BILL (appalled and embarrassed): Hey, Calam! What in tarnation y'doin'?

CALAMITY: Bet it wasn't the first time she got 'im to kiss 'er! Bet it's been goin' on right along! (Throws dress on floor and starts to peel off petticoat.)

BILL (getting frantic): Now Calam-get a hold o' yourself! It ain't that serious! Lots o' people act plumb silly at these sociables-

CALAMITY: I saw 'em! They wasn't actin'! (Throws petticoat down.) She can take that with the rest of her man-traps! (Kicks off shoe.) And that! (Kicks off other shoe.) And that! (She starts to sniffle, fighting back tears.)

BILL: Why're you blamin' it all on Katie? Seems to me the Lootenant musta been on the other end o' that kissin' business!

CALAMITY (ripping off stockings): She charmed him hog-eyed! (Holds up stockings.) Look at these! Pure silk! Bet 'er mother spun 'em!

BILL: For gosh sakes, Calam! The soljers might come in!... I'm gonna get that ol' coat o' yours-you'll disrupt the whole Fort if they see ya like that-! (Exit.)

No. 21 FINALETTO

(CALAMITY and BILL)

(Over the intro, CALAMITY yells after BILL)

CALAMITY: Let 'em see me! What do I care?

(Sings.)

Men! Men! Two-timin' men!
I've said it before an' I'll say it agen!
T'yer face the mean critters behave nice as pie,
But jest turn y'r back-they'll spit right in y'r eye!

(BILL re-enters, with coat.)

BILL (spoken): C'mon now-get this coat on...

(As he helps her on with the coat.) (Sings.)

Girls! Girls! Feminine girls!
They act so plumb crazy, your brain simply whirls!
The things they get up to don't make any sense...
They just don't begin to use intelligence
In their bonnets bees keep buzz'n
An' they don't heed a word that you say-

CALAMITY: If I'd follo'wers by the doz'n,
Wouldn't give you a dime for 'em
Jest got no time for 'em-

BOTH: Men! Men
Girls! Girls! How can you win?
With dice that are loaded, your chances are thin!
You might as well talk to a solid brick wall
You don't get much farther,
So, me, I'd much rather
Just simply not bother at all I

(DIALOGUE over continuing music.)

BILL: I take back everything I said about that ol' coat... You're sure gonna need it...

(As he makes to escort her off.)

CALAMITY: Hey-you ain't comin' wih me! I know the way-

BILL: I'm takin' ya home whether you like it or not

CALAMITY: Now, see here, Bill Hickock-

BILL: For pete's sake let's get goin'... If anyone catches you and me this way, Deadwood City'll never be the same again!

(Firmly, he escorts her OFF.)

CURTAIN

END OF SCENE

ACT TWO SCENE 4

THE TRAIL AGAIN.

(This covers the dropping-in of the CLOTH used for SCENE 2, and if all the music provided is not required, the first repeat may be omitted or a start made at FIGURE 1.)

It is still NIGHT. CALAMITY and BILL enter, as from the previous scene. CALAMITY, tearful, angry and rebellious, is pulling away from BILL.)

CALAMITY: I wish yuh'd let me be, Bill Hickock, and mind yer business!

BILL: This is my business! (Grabs her by the arm.)

CALAMITY: Let go o' me, y' danged polecat!

(BILL spins her about and holds her firmly.)

BILL: Y're gonna listen to me if I have to tie you down! Why don't you cool off? oughta knock yuh senseless... as if y'had any sense!

CALAMITY: I tell yuh I'm pullin' outa Deadwood just as fast's I can-

BILL: Y're doin' nuthin' of the kind!... I've seen you do lots of crazy things, Calam, but it's the first time I ever saw yuh make a blasted fool o' yerself!

(CALAMITY, fighting temper and emotions, tries to tear herself away from him.)

CALAMITY: Lemmy off-!

BILL (holding her): You stay still and listen! Y're a fake, Calamity Jane, d'ya hear? A fake! Y'dress, talk, ride and shoot like a man, but y'think like a female! A green-eyed, snarlin', spittin' female! Who are you t'tell people who to love? Suppose y'do scare that kid outa town-will that git yuh back yer Lootenant? Will it stop Katie from lovin' him? Or him her? That's female thinkin'! He'll bring 'er back, an' they'll both hate yuh! Yuh'll have lost your man, your friend, and the respect everybody had for yuh!

(Laying her head on his shoulder, she begins to sob.)

BILL: G'wan... bawl! Admit y're a female! Have y'r hysterics and git 'em over with! Y'll feel better!

CALAMITY: Oh Bill... I'm so plumb crazy about him...

(She buries her face against him, and weeps bitterly. BILL holds her close, and comforts her-his anger melting away.)

BILL (gently): I know... I know just how it is... I feel the same way about her... (CALAMITY fights her tears, lifts her head, and looks at BILL questioningly.)

CALAMITY: Bill...! You... in love with.. Katie -- .?

BILL: (ruefully): Funny... ain't it?

CALAMITY: No, it ain't... I'm sorry, Bill... I didn't know

BILL (smiles, and puts his arm round her): 'S all right. It might take a little time, but I'll git over it. You'll get over Danny, too.

No. 23 "MY SECRET LOVE"

(CALAMITY)

(Dialogue over opening music.)

CALAMITY: No I won't... not Danny... All I've done fer months is dream about 'im... about gittin' married an' building a little cabin, an' havin' kids, an'... Silly, but I really wanted all them things

BILL: I was kinda hankerin' fer 'em myself.

CALAMITY: There'll never be another man like him, Bill!... not fer me... not ever...

BILL: It ain't gonna be easy gittin' her outa my system, either. . . (His lips descending towards hers, staring at CALAMITY.) She was so beautiful... and... so beautiful... and... (Their lips meet in a passionate hiss, and he goes on kissing her, on her hair, and cheek, and whispering.) So beautiful... and female and...

CALAMITY (her cheek against his): Bill... Bill.

(Sings.)

Once I had a secret love
That lived within the heart of me
All too soon my secret love
Became impatient to be free.

So I told a friendly star,
The way that dreamers often do,
Just how wonderful you are,
And why I'm so in love with you.

Now I shout it from the highest hills
Even told the golden daffodils!
At last my heart's an open door,
And my secret love's no secret any more.

(They kiss again, Dialogue over continuing music)

BILL: Who was that Lootenant you were tellin' me about a while back?

CALAMITY: Never heard of 'im

BILL: What you say to us takin' a ride - just the two of us? We could watch the moon hangin' high over the mountain...

CALAMITY: The way it'll look, I shan't ever have seen it before...

(Sings.)

Now I shout it from the highest hills
Even told the golden daffodils!
At last my heart's an open door,
And my secret love's no secret any more!

SCENE 4.1

(They hold a close embrace during the applause. Then, as they make to move off together, DANNY enters. Seeing them, he halts.)

DANNY: Calamity!

CALAMITY (turning): Danny!... Oh, I'm glad to see you, Danny!... I wanna explain-

DANNY: There's nothing to explain. You warned Katie to clear out-and that's what she's done.

CALAMITY: Done How d'ya mean?

DANNY: She went to the Colonel and asked his help. Right now she's being escorted to Valley Falls. She's catching the stage from there at dawn.

CALAMITY: What...? But I don't want her to go! I didn't mean what I said! I musta been loco-

DANNY: · Bit late for that sort of talk—

CALAMITY (anguished): But, Danny-! I never thought she'd leave just like that! Why'd she do it?

DANNY (suppressed anger): Because she's a lady... Because she's not mean, and selfish... She never learned to hurt people, and wreck their lives, like-like--

CALAMITY (choking back a sob): Like me? Go on-say it!

DANNY: I don't have to say it, (Produces paper.) This note she left me says everything. Listen...

No, 23a. "MY SECRET LOVE "

(Melos and Reprise)

DANNY (reading note): "Dear Danny: Calamity's in love with you.. "

CALAMITY: But I'm not! Maybe I was, but I'm not--not any more-

DANNY: Shut up and listen! (Resumes reading.) "Calamity's in love with you, and I expect you're in love with her, too, if truth be told... I've no right to come between you two; I want you to be happy. Pretend it was Adelaide Adams who came to Deadwood... Katie Brown never existed... She doesn't now... Goodbye, Danny... " (He crumples the note.)

BILL: "Never existed"... She was the most real person in Deadwood.

CALAMITY (with sudden resolution): I've gotta bring her back... There's nothin' else for it--I've gotta bring her back!

DANNY: But she's on her way to Valley Falls-

CALAMITY: Hut she ain't gonna catch no stage-not while I can ride faster'n any woman alive! I'm gittin' back to the cabin, quick! Bill you can saddle up fer me, while I git m'deerskins on... While I'm gone, find a preacher to do the splicin'! Danny, you git back to the Fort an' invite the folks to a weddin'-a double weddin'-you and Katie, 'n me and Bill.

DANNY (after a stunned pause) Did-did you say you-and-Bill?

CALAMITY: That's right!

BILL.: Sure is

DANNY: Well I'll be-! (Tympanum roll begins.) Bill, I don't know what kind of a life you'll have with this catamount, but it ain't gonna be dull! (Exit.)

(MUSIC BUILDS as BILL puts his arm round CALAMITY and they go into a DUET REPRISE of the end part of Secret Love".)

CALAMITY: Now we shout it from the highest hills

BILL: Even told the golden daffodils!
At last my heart's an open door.
And our secret love's no secret--any more!

FADE-OUT

TAB

(SEGUE:)

No. 24 .."WINDY CITY"

(Reprise)

(The ORCHESTRAL INTRO is to cover the scene-change. If there is more music than required, the first repeat can be omitted; or a start can be made at FIGURE 1, or even at FIGURE 2.)

ACT TWO SCENE 5

“THE GOLDEN GARTER..” AGAIN.

The CURTAIN RISES at FIGURE 3 in the score. (No. 24 continues. "The Golden Garter" is festively decorated for a happy occasion. A gay poster reads "Welcome Back Katie!" The CITIZENS of Deadwood are in their Sunday-best, and a sprinkling of the MILITARY from the Fort are in dress uniforms. MILLER is fussing about putting finishing touches to the decorations, and JOE is officiating at the bar.

No. 24. "WINDY CITY"

(Reprise)

(CHORUS)

CHORUS: Just blew in from the Windy City
The Windy City is might pretty,
But they ain't got what we got,
No, sirree!

They got shacks up to seven storeys
They never see any morning glories,
But a step from our doorway
We got 'em for free!

They got those
Minstrel shows-

GIRLS: Pretty ladies in their big chapeaux--

MEN: Private Lawns,
Public Parks-

GIRLS: Ah... Ah...
For the sake of civic virtue,

CHORUS They've got fountains there to squirt you!
Just blew in from the Windy City
The Windy City is might pretty,
But they ain't got what we got
I'm tellin' you, boys!
We've got more life in Deadwood City
Than in all of Illinois!

(SHOUT.)

YEOW!

(As the CHORUS ENDS, the CROWD breaks-up, some of the MEN grouping to talk with the LADIES, others moving to the bar. Enter Doc PIERCE. He is dressed in a seedy black suit with a big white flower in the buttonhole. He gazes round at the CROWD, and sniffs.)

SCENE 5.1

DOC: H'm... Nice, healthy smell of naphthalene around here... I diagnose moth balls... Hiya, Millie!

MILLER: No good asking if there's a poker game going. For once, there isn't. Doc: I was afraid o' that... My, the ol' place looks real fancy-

MILLER: More'n I can say of you-in your funeral suit.

DOC: Can't you see there's a flower in m' buttonhole? That makes it m' weddin' - suit!... Anyway, only gladrags I got... When do we clap eyes on the lovin' couples?

MILLER: They'll be down when Rattlesnake gets here with the stage-

DOC: Two hitchin's in one day-well, why not? 'Spec' they get a cut rate... Say, Millie, (indicates poster) does that just mean Katie's welcome back to Deadwood, or to The Golden Garter?

MILLER: I'd like to think it meant both. But I'm not kidding myself. Doc: Seems a pity, jest as soon's y'get y'rself an attraction hot as a potato-

MILLER: Don't I know it?... But can you see Lootenant Daniel Gilmartin letting his wife do a song-and-dance for the likes o' you?

(The SOLDIERS laugh.)

DOC (stubbornly): To do a song-and-dance for the likes o' me wuz what Calam brung her from Chicago for-

MILLER: But not what she rode like crazy to stop her going back for!

DOC (ruefully): S'pose not... Say, that was really sump'n wasn't it?... I hear tell by the time them two gals'd sorted out which was in love with who, Calam was cryin's loud as Katie l... Can y' imagine-Calam acting like an ornery female?... 'Mazin'...

(FRYER, very dapper in a smart morning-suit with a flower in his lapel, has entered, and is edging towards MILLER somewhat timorously.)

JOE (from bar, to Doc, proffering drink): Come'n get it, Doc! Everybody has one on the house... One... to drink the health o' both couples..

DOC (appreciatively, mooing to bar): Well... gee... thanks...

MILLER: It'll probably ruin me-if I'm not ruined already. (Sees FRYER, and moves to him purposefully.) Mister Fryer... About this double-act you and Susan been working on... Could you go on tonight-that is, if anybody shows up? D'you think anybody will show up tonight? Why should they? Why should they show up any night?

FRYER: Mister Miller, I've been wanting to talk to you-

MILLER (suddenly taking in his clothes): Say, you've really gone the whole hog, haven't you? You could be a bridegroom yourself-

FRYER: That's what I've been wanting to-

MILLER: Don't worry-you look fine-just fine. Now about this act. if you and Susan-thought

FRYER: We -we sorta had other ideas-about tonight-

MILLER: Other ideas?... For a show?

FRYER: No-for us.

MILLER: What are you talking about?

FRYER: Me and Susan... We thought... if it's such a good idea having a double wedding, then surely it'd be an even better idea to have a triple...?

MILLIE (not with him): Mister Fryer, I'm a very busy man right now. I've a got a great deal to think about, and I just wanted a simple answer to a simple-(He does a tremendous "take", and then stares at FRYER.) What was that you said?

(By now the CROWD chatter has subsided, and everybody is Listening.)

FRYER (gulping): Please can I marry Susan?... Today-while we're all set up? Two weddings-three weddings-what's the difference? Wouldn't be any trouble at all-(For a few moments MILLER, staggered, opens and closes his mouth soundlessly-unable to get any words out. FRYER looks apprehensive.) Please don't be angry, Mister Miller We love each other very much... We'd have asked you earlier, only... well Susan thought this way we'd have the best chance... (MILLER still can't get his vocal chords working. FRYER rushes on, while he has the chance.)

I know you think actors are crazy... Well, maybe I am... but only about Susan. I'm honest, and healthy, and single, and hard-working, and-and-well, anyway, Susan wants to marry me, and so do' I. I mean-

MILLER (swallowing, and finding his voice at last): Where is she...?

FRYER (pointing vaguely up and off): Getting dressed...

MILLER (nodding): Getting dressed... ("Take")... Like a bridesmaid?

FRYER: Like a bride... Just in case

(MILLER reacts. Dazed, and groping a little, he brushes FRYER out of his way, and exits. FRYER raises his eyes prayerfully. Deliberately he crosses the first two fingers of both hands, and then dives off after MILLER. The CROWD laughs. A MAN who has been on the look-out by the door lets out a shout.)

COWBOY: The stage! Here it comes-all frilled up-!

(There is a general movement to concentrate interest on the door. The CROWD raises a CHEER as we hear RATTLESNAKE's voice (off) shouting "Whoa there - Woa!" and the sound of the Deadwood Stage being reined-in to a standstill. There is general laughter as RATTLESNAKE appears-beaming. He is got up in an ill-fitting tail-suit, with a battered top hat.)

RATTLESNAKE: The Deadwood Stage-all ready for the weddin' party!

No. 25 ... FINALE

(FULL COMPANY)

CHORUS: Oh, the Deadwood Stage is a-rollin' on over the plains
With the curtains flappin' and the driver a-slappin' the reins
Beautiful sky-a wonderful day-
Whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away!
Oh, the Deadwood Stage is a-headin' on over the hills,
Where the Injun arrows are a-thicker than porkerpine quills
Dangerous land-no time to delay-
Whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away!

(As the music changes, SUSAN enters – wearing a charming bridal gown, and attended by BRIDESMAIDS. As the GIRLS sing, FRYER re-enters with MILLER-and they solemnly shake hands.)

GIRLS: A woman's touch!
A woman's touch!
The magic of Aladdin couldn't do as much!
She's a wizard---she's a champ-
And she doesn't need a lamp!

MEN: A woman's touch
Can weave a spell-
The kind of hocus-pocus that she does so well
In a charming wedding gown
She can captivate the town!

FRYER: Hey presto, change-a, suddenly
The sun comes peeping through-
What does Mister Sunshine say to you?

CHORUS: Tell us-do!

(FRYER sings to SUSAN.)

FRYER: I've got two wonderful arms-
You've got two wonderful lips-
I'm over twenty-one, and I'm free;
You're sweet as a hive full of honey,
So let me be your honey-bee!

As you're the one I adore,
I had to get you before
Somebody shook you down from the tree;
Your sweet as a hive full of honey,
So let me be your honey-bee! ·

(During CHANGE OF MUSIC. Enter KATIE and DANNY-arm in arm. KATIE, too, wears a charming bridal gown, and DANNY is resplendent in his full-dress uniform. As the COMPANY make way far for them to come downstate.)

KATIE: Love you, dearly
DANNY: More than just sincerely

DANNY: More than there are rosebuds in a spring bouquet!

KATIE: Need I say I need you more and more each day?

DANNY:

(During the next CHANGE OF MUSIC, the CROWD turns to look at BILL, who enters wearing his smartest 'Gaylord Ravenal' clothes, and singing)

BILL: I said that I would never fall
But now I'm not afraid to tell
My love, my love is higher than a hawk,
And deeper than a well

(BILL joins the CHORUS now, as, singing, they tum to greet CALAMITY, who enters to make the most dazzling bride of all.)

CHORUS: Now we shout it from the highest hills
Even told the golden daffodils--

CALAMITY: At last my heart's an open door

CHORUS: Her heart's an open door-

CALAMITY: And my secret love's no secret any more!

CHORUS: And her secret love's no secret any more!

(as the three COUPLES embrace)

ALL: Oh, the Deadwood Stage is a-rollin' on over the plains,
With the curtains flappin' and the driver a-slappin' the reins•
Beautiful sky-a wonderful day-
Whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away!

Oh, the Deadwood Stage is a headin' on over the hills,
Where the Injun arrows are a-thicker than porkerpine quills•
Dangerous land-no time to delay-
Whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away, whip-crack-away.!
Whip-crack-away!

CURTAIN

END OF PLAY

FOR CURTAIN CALL THE FULL COMPANY SINGS

“THE BLACK HILLS OF DAKOTA

